Judge Evans For Second Time Holds War Time Dry Act Unconstitutional

Sustains Attack on Constitutionality of Enforcement Act—Grants Injunction

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 13.—Judge Walter Evans in the federal district court today in effect for the second time held wartime prohibition unconstitutional, sustained an attack on the constitutionality of the Volstead enforcement act and granted an injunction restraining Elwood Hamilton, collector of internal revenue for Kentucky, and District Attorney W. V. Gregory from interfering with the sale by two Louisville distillers of their "floor stock" of tax-paid whiskey.

The government immediately took an appeal to the United States circuit court at Cincinnati and announced its intention of asking the higher court for a writ of superadeas, which would have the effect of staying the injunction.

In the interval the way was open, it was said for Wright and Taylor and Brown and Forman, plaintiffs in the action to dispose of their floor stocks of whiskey without interference by the federal authorities in Kentucky. They were quoted as having said, however, they were undecided on the course to pursue in view of the fact that constitutionality of war-time prohibition had not yet been decided by the supreme court of the United States.

Whether the injunction issued today should be temporary or permanent had been left with Attorney General Palmer, whose office today wired that a temporary writ would best serve the purpose of the government. He also instructed the district attorney, it was announced to apply for a writ of superadeas to stay operation of the temporary injunction which Judge Evans refused. In this emergency the district attorney appealed the case to the higher court.

FAIL TO INVOKE CLOTURE RULE

Attempt by Democrats To Limit Debate on Reservations Blocked

Senate Adopts Motion by Sen. Lodge To Table Appeal From Ruling

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—An attempt by democratic senators to invoke the cloture rule; so as to limit debate on the foreign relations committee reservations to the peace treaty, failed today in the senate.

By a vote of 14 to 36, with all of the republicans present and Senators Reed, Missouri and Shields, Tennessee, democrats, voting in the affirmative, the senate adopted a motion by Republican Leader Lodge to table an appeal from a ruling that the democratic move was out of order.

The democratic petition for cloture had been held out of order by the chair, because it sought to limit debate only on the reservations and not on the whole treaty. It was for this reason, Senator Lodge said, that the republicans opposed the move.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota, prominent among the "mild reservationists" on the republican side, announced that in a very short time a cloture rule covering the entire treaty would be presented.

The move followed a morning conference of the administration forces, at which it was decided to take aggressive measures against what it was feared might develop into a stubborn filibuster against the treaty.

To Hold Night Sessions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Two petitions to invoke the senate cloture rule to throttle unlimited debate on the peace treaty, which administration senators say has assumed the aspect of a filibuster, were prepared today for submission to the senate, should it become necessary. The move to invoke the cloture rule came after two days had been consumed in speech-making without action on the second foreign relations committee reservation dealing with Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, which technically was before the senate for action.

The first petition for the cloture was circulated by the democratic leaders and they were followed by the mild reservationist group of the republicans which resulted in the preparation of two petitions. As a further aid toward forcing action on the reservations, night sessions of the senate were agreed upon, starting tonight.

Under the cloture rule, no senator could speak more than one hour until a vote on ratification had been reached. The cloture rule was adopted in March, 1917, after the armed neutrality bill had been killed in the closing hours of the previous session by a filibuster, which provoked President Wilson to refer in a speech to the "little group of wilful men" blocking senate action. The rule has never been invoked. A petition was started to enforce the cloture but before it reached a vote the opposition collapsed.

TO NEGOTIATE NEW WAGE SCALE

Garfield Accepts Invitation of Sec. Wilson To Attend Big Conference

Coal Miners and Operators Ready For Session—To Discuss Prices of Coal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Fuel Administrator Garfield today accepted an invitation of Secretary Wilson to attend the conference here tomorrow between coal miners and operators to negotiate a new wage scale. Dr. Garfield's advice will be sought as to how much, if any, wage increase granted should be passed on to the consumer.

The scope of the coming conference, officials said, will be broader than the negotiation of a new wage scale, and the interest of the public in the future prices of coal will be taken into consideration.

More than 200 operators and about 100 representatives of the miners are expected to arrive tonight and tomorrow.

ASSAULT WITH RAZOR

Two Men Arraigned in Police Court Are Held in $500 Each

Charged with assault with a razor on Antonio Tetti, Michael Puligiano and Michael Saracino, two residents of Union street, pleaded not guilty in police court today and were held in $500 for hearing November 20.

Tetti, who lives on Howard street, was found on Chapel street Tuesday evening, with a deep gash in his forehead. He was removed to St. John's hospital where it was found that the wound, although serious, was not of a fatal character. The police began an immediate investigation of the stabbing, which resulted in the two defendants being brought to St. John's hospital last evening by Inspector Walsh and Sergt. Bigelow where they are said by the police to have been identified by Tetti as his assailants. According to the police the two met Tetti on Chapel street, and following a brief argument, assaulted him.

Guardsmen's Work in Boston Brought Full Realization of Irksome Life

Feel That Surroundings Should Offer Every Comfort if Efficiency Is Desired

A better realization of the disagreeable side of the routine life of a policeman, a feeling that he should be afforded the best possible quarters and every consideration of comfort, a knowledge that it takes many months of preparation to make a good policeman and a general agreement that they themselves would not relish the life were a few of the thoughts Lowell state guardsmen have brought home after a tedious tour of patrol duty in Boston.

The men interviewed are reticent concerning their personal experiences, at least for publication, but they are willing to express their attitude toward police work in general as it was brought home to them by actual work in the harness.

In the ranks of the Massachusetts state guard good policemen have many staunch friends and supporters. Throughout the guard there was evidence of a fine attitude toward the Boston police. Many high grade men were personally met and admired Lowell guardsmen, almost to a man, felt that policemen should be well paid, given every consideration and then held to a strict account.

As to their station houses, Lowell men found these quarters—and they themselves occupying them—somewhat of a discredit to the city of Boston. They were not comfortable, they were not modern, they were not as clean as they might have been. Some of the houses were not in such condition as to allow them to be kept clean, their very structures were a barrier. The local guardsmen, or at least as one of them has expressed it, feel that too

IMPROVEMENT IN STOCK MARKET

Stocks Strong at Opening of Today's Session After a Wild Day

Future Depends on Money Rates—Issues Rally—Gen. Motors Gain 15 Points

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Stocks were strong at the opening of today's session, indicating that liquidation had run its course, for a time at least. It was generally recognized, however, that the market's future was wholly dependent upon money rates.

General Motors, the central feature of the recent depression, made an initial gain of 15 points and Texas company and Mexican Petroleum, other conspicuous features of the recent decline, rose six and nine points, respectively.

In other divisions of the stock list, rallies of one to four points were made. Trading was on a moderate scale with signs of substantial support, especially in the high grade shares.

Liberty Bonds Drop

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Vigorous trading in Liberty loan bonds in the local market today brought new low prices for the fourth 4 1/2 loan which was quoted at 92.70 and Victory 4 1/2 at 93.30. Weakness in these bonds is attributed to selling by individuals to obtain cash with which to protect margins in stock accounts.

HARVARD CLUBS TO HOLD MEETING HERE

The New England Federation of Harvard clubs has accepted the invitation of the Lowell Harvard club to hold its annual meeting in this city and the date of November 20 has been fixed. At that time approximately 300 men will come to attend the business session, including President Lowell of the university.

An elaborate program of hospitality will be arranged by a local committee and everything possible will be done for the entertainment of the guests. Golf and other sports will be available at the Vesper Country club.

Among the Lowell club men who are arranging the affairs of the meeting are Rev. A. R. Hussey, Herbert W. Horne, Joseph A. Nesmith, Walter Clarkson, Allan M. Dumas, Earle R. Kimball and Larkin T. Trull.

BIG PRIMARY TUESDAY

More Men and Women Qualified To Vote Than Ever Before

More men and women will be qualified to vote at the city primaries to be held here next Tuesday than ever before in the history of the city, City Clerk Stephen Flynn announced today after the registration figures of the past few days and the names already on the check list had been tabulated. No less than 24,356 Lowell voters will be entitled to go to the polls on Tuesday.

Of this number, 17,606 will be males and 6,750 females. Some five years ago there was a larger registration of women entitled to vote for the school committee candidates, but never before has there been such a large outpouring of men and the combined total which goes to make up the city's voting strength has never been exceeded. Summed up, it means that approximately one in every five of the city's inhabitants will be entitled to exercise the franchise on Tuesday.

The state election brought out a large registration, a total of 17,243 men being entitled to vote at that time. Since then there have been added to the list 363 more names. A large number of women have also registered in the past few days and have brought the total voting strength of their sex to 6,350.

Ward 8 has the largest number of voters in the city, although ward 9 has more female voters registered. There are 2529 male voters registered in ward 8 and 1970 female voters, making a total of 3509. Ward 9 has less male voters—2365—but more female voters—1117, for a total of 3482.

The total registration of the city by wards as it stands for the municipal primaries is as follows:

Ward	Male	Female
1	1823	717
2	1235	235
3	2497	855
4	1422	591
5	1259	426
6	2269	458
7	2202	968
8	2529	1970
9	2365	1117
Total	17,606	6,350

300 PRISONERS ARE INVOLVED

Plot Conceived by Seven Inmates in Detroit Prison Revealed by "Trusty"

Heavily Armed Accomplices Planned Going to Jail During Visiting Hours

DETROIT, Nov. 13.—One of the biggest jail deliveries ever planned, involving 300 prisoners, including many radicals lately taken was frustrated at the Wayne county jail yesterday afternoon through information given the sheriff by a "trusty" it became known today.

The plot, according to the sheriff's information, was conceived by seven inmates. It was planned that heavily armed accomplices should come to the jail during visiting hours, bringing for the ringleaders a basket too large to pass between the bars. This would necessitate opening the door leading to the ward occupied by the conspirators. Then it was planned that the conspirators overpower the guards, other accomplices raiding the jail offices and seizing keys to the cells block the sheriff was told.

Destruction of telephone communication and seizure of riot guns and other weapons to hinder successful pursuit also were contemplated. The jail recently was the scene of a delivery that liberated about a dozen inmates.

D'OLLER MADE HEAD OF AMERICAN LEGION

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—Franklin D. O'Dell, of Pennsylvania, former lieutenant-colonel in the Quartermaster Corps, A.E.F., was last night elected national commander of the American Legion. He won the honor by a vote of 306 to 291 over his nearest competitor, Hanford MacNider of Mass. City, Ia.

Colonel Edward L. Logan of Massachusetts was not entered as a candidate. The Bay State commander withdrew from the contest early yesterday afternoon after he, in a speech before the convention, cast aside all personal ambitions and chances for possible election, by attacking the "stem roller" methods of the convention and censuring the New York delegation, members of which, he said, had been circulating unpleasant reports about him throughout the convention hall.

Alden R. Chambers of Winthrop elected fourth vice-commander, was the only New England man to obtain national elective office in the legion. Colonel John P. J. Herbert of Worcester was unanimously elected to the national executive committee from Massachusetts after a reconciliation act had been staged following another disagreement in the Bay State delegation.

FRANKLIN D'OLLER

The convention voted to increase the dues of every member $1 per annum, and it was in opposition to this measure that Colonel Logan threw aside all his aspirations to the national commandship.

The bonus question the convention referred back to congress, and so far as the amount of money which the service men should have paid them is concerned, the status is the same as when the preliminary caucus of the legion adjourned at St. Louis last May. The $1 per day for every day in service advocated by nearly one-half the convention, led by Massachusetts and Ohio, lost out by an extremely close vote. The legion went on record as "favoring" a bonus. What it is to be and how it is to be paid is to be determined by the national general court. The national convention of the legion just "passed the buck," it is claimed, and in the same close vote that defeated the naming of an amount of bonus declined to make a demand upon congress.

Opposition to the increase of dues in the legion cost the Bay State delegation dear, as it did Commander Logan and his aspirations for the highest office in the legion. The upset of the Logan candidacy came quickly and without warning and followed the South Boston man's attempt to have the legion retain its dues at the present figure instead of boosting them as has been done.

Again on the bonus question Massachusetts unfortunately opposed what proved to be the popular demand. Christopher J. Halligan of All-Dorchester Post stampeded the convention with his plea for a stated bonus demand only to have the opposition sweep the victory from the measure by another narrow margin.

Logan knew that he was whipping himself when he jumped to the floor of the convention and fought to defeat the measure raising the dues of the legion. He had barely left the stage when recess was called, and he addressed the Bay State delegates.

"This situation," he said, "has made it impossible for the Bay State to try to elect a candidate for national commander. It is unfortunate, but let's forget it. I may be to blame and you may be, because I was talking for you."

"But I tell you men that when the story of this convention is told we have more than a task in our home state. I am going to battle that task and we are going to put Massachusetts over further than she has been already in this legion, and I need your help. An increase in dues means more than a little work in our state, and you know it."

Immediately afterwards the delegation voted to support MacNider for national commander. When the votes were cast Colonel Herbert was the only Massachusetts delegate to vote for the Pennsylvania candidate. The vote was: Massachusetts, 64 for MacNider, 1 for D'Oller; Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire and Rhode Second national vice-commander, James O'Brien (navy), California. Third vice-commander, Joyce P. Lewis (marines), Minnesota. Fourth vice-commander, Alden R. Chambers (navy), Winthrop, Mass. Fifth vice-commander, William B. Fallett (army), Oregon. The Rev. Father Francis P. Kelly of Rensselaer, New York, defeated John W. Inzer of Alabama for national chaplain. According to the new constitution adopted the national secretary will be appointed by the national commander. Delegates who attended the first national convention of the American Legion, left for their homes today, the three days' session having been brought to a close late last night.

DID NOT REACH JURY The case of the Suburban Land Co. vs. the town of Billerica, an action of contract in the sum of $2000, which was called at the civil session of the superior court of Suffolk county yesterday, was not allowed to go to the jury, this action being taken by Justice Morton, the presiding justice. The action was brought to recover money paid to the water department of the town, which the company claimed had overcharged them by imposing a higher rate than should have been charged. Judge Morton, after hearing counsel, decided that the town was justified in its action.

Buttermilk Creates Beauty Overnight

Delightful New Vanishing Cream Contains True Buttermilk Makes You Look Years Younger or Money Back.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the duldest and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it is just common ordinary Buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth. To prove this to your complete satisfaction obtain a small quantity of Howard's Buttermilk Cream from your druggist or any toilet goods counter on the money back if dissatisfied plan. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it.—L.A.

TINY PARTS

Some of the smallest screws are so minute that the unaided eye can scarcely distinguish them from steel filings or specks of dirt. Under a powerful magnifying glass a perfect screw is revealed. The slit in the head is 1-500 of an inch wide and the threads 1-220 of an inch apart. It takes 308,000 of these screws to weigh a pound, which is worth more than $1500.

The hairspring is a strip of the finest steel, about 9 1/2 inches long and 1-100 of an inch wide and 27-10,000 of an inch thick. It is coiled into a PERFECT SPIRAL OF MATHEMATICAL ACCURACY. The size of the strip is gauged to the twenty-thousandth of an inch; but no measuring instrument has, as yet, been devised capable of finding enough gauging to determine beforehand, by the size of the strip, what the strength of the finished spring will be. LADY SWATHLING

COUNTESS OF SUFFOLK

MRS. JAMES McDONALD

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH

London Social Leaders in Washington for the Visit of the Prince of Wales

Stone for British nobility. The coming visit of the youthful Earl of Southampton, England, Prince of Wales to the capital has among the first to come to Washington scores of England's social leaders to this country and to Washington.

Lord and Lady Swathling of Towne, Mme. Slavko V. Groultch, Lord Swathling is the brother of the Hon. Lionel Montagu, secretary for India in the British cabinet. Lady Swathling is a close friend of the British queen.

Cream of London

The Countess of Suffolk is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter, at their Washington home. She was formerly Nancy Leiter. It is said that she may make this her future home.

Brig. Gen. Moreton F. Gage of the British army and Mrs. Gage, who have been visiting in the north, have arrived here to greet the prince. Mrs. Gage was formerly Frances Lippitt, daughter of ex-Governor Henry Lippitt of Rhode Island.

Sir Charles Henry, M.P., and Lady Henry have been guests for some time of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Martin Vogel. The Duchess of Marlborough came over in the early summer to visit her mother, Mrs. O. H. Belmont, in Newport, and is here.

Lady Herbert, whose late husband was formerly British ambassador to this country, is with her sister, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York, who has taken apartments here for the period of the royal visit. Mrs. Whitehead has as her guest her daughter, Lady Ward.

Queen Mary's Household

The Marquis and Marchioness of Dufferin, the Earl of Dufferin, Lady Mary C. Stuart, Lord C. C. Stuart, and Capt. A. Rawlinson, all came over with the British ambassador and spent the late summer and autumn touring this country.

Red Activities Threaten Serious Trouble in Coal Mine Fields

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Activities of radicals threaten serious trouble in the bituminous coal mine fields of West Virginia, according to reports received today by the department of justice.

The situation in Monongalia and Taylor counties was described by department of justice officials as "particularly nasty." Meetings directed and attended largely by Russians, have precipitated some violence among the coal miners, the report said.

HEAVY SNOWFALL

British Shipbuilding Work Virtually Stopped

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Shipbuilding work on the Clyde, the Tyne and the Tees was virtually stopped today by a heavy snowfall which seriously affected also the mining district of Wales, north England and Yorkshire. The storm extended as far south as the Isle of Wight. London was slightly sprinkled by the fall.

LIQUOR DEALERS ARE JUBILANT

Rhode Island Men Pleased Over Injunction Against Government Officers

Undecided, However, as to When They Can Place 4 Per Cent Beer on Sale

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 13.—Rhode Island liquor dealers were jubilant today over the preliminary injunction issued by United States District Judge Brown forbidding government officers from enforcing the provisions of the war-time prohibition act affecting the sale of beer.

They are, however, undecided as to when they can place 4 per cent beer on draught. A warning issued by Internal Revenue Collector George F. O'Shaughnessy has been taken to mean that saloon-keepers who take advantage of the court's action and sell a stronger beverage than one-half of 1 per cent will become liable to prosecution later, should an upper court reverse Judge Brown's decision.

The Narragansett Brewing company, through whose petition yesterday's action was taken, was reported today as ready to deliver 4 per cent beer as soon as it is considered safe to do so.

Company officials decline to reveal their plans, however, declaring that the decision "may and may not" result in a resumption of the distribution of 4 per cent beer.

NOISE CAUSED HEADACHE AND NERVOUSNESS

Relief Obtained, Says Massachusetts Resident, After Treatment With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Anemic people are generally nervous for the reason that their blood is too weak in nourishment to convey strength to the delicate nervous system. The nerves receive their food entirely from the blood and nervous debility generally responds to a treatment that tones up the blood. The case of Mrs. Joseph Peete, of No. 567 Main street, Clinton, Mass., illustrates the effectiveness of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in nervous troubles.

"Several years ago I was operated on for appendicitis," says Mrs. Peete, "and it seemed impossible for me to regain my strength. I was told my blood supply was inadequate and that I had anemia. My complexion was sallow and I was without ambition. The most aggravating symptom was nervousness. I suffered from frequent headaches, my sleep was fitful and unrefreshing, unusual sounds upset me and my nerves were in such a state that it took me hours to get control of myself. I had frequent attacks of nervous indigestion, too.

"A friend asked me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, saying that she had received great benefit from the remedy. I procured a box and after several weeks' treatment have improved so much that I feel like a different person. I sleep well, eat heartily without any distressing after-effects, and seldom become nervous. I am now an enthusiastic endorser of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and shall never be without them again."

Your own druggist can supply you with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."—Adv.

regards the demand for the evacuation of Hungary by the Rumanians. The allied note was not completed today, but it will be put into shape very shortly and forwarded to Bucharest within two days.

The report received from Sir George Clerk, the allied commissioner to Budapest, was considered as showing that political conditions in Hungary were much improved and that there were indications of a coalition government being organized shortly in Budapest with which the peace conference could deal.

Another subject considered by the council was the elections recently held in Silesia. A note to Germany was framed advising it to disregard these elections. A note also was sent to Germany warning the Berlin government that the sale of German aviation material is a violation of the armistice and will not be tolerated.

The municipal elections in upper Silesia it has been shown by other dispatches went heavily in favor of the Poles, giving rise to expressions of hope in Polish quarters that the allies would regard them as showing the sentiment of the district and as obviating the necessity for a plebiscite to determine whether the region should go to Poland or remain German.

WARNS FRENCH GIRLS AGAINST MARRYING CHINESE LABORERS IN FRANCE

GREETINGS To the American Legion

BY GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING

The legion is destined to be of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which we fought and in spreading among our people the lessons learned in the war. I predict a most useful future for the legion.

BY NEWTON D. BAKER
Secretary of War

This organization is so distinctly a spontaneous outgrowth of the mind and heart of the men who have been in the service that it neither desires nor would be benefited by an official relationship to the War Department, but the War Department is interested in the soldier, and I, who have been permitted to maintain through these heroic years a close relationship to the great army, naturally have the kindest interest in everything that affects their welfare and the preservation of their great traditions. I am happy, therefore, to congratulate the legion upon the progress you have made and to wish to you the sort of success which will mean the membership of every soldier in your organization.

BY GENERAL PEYTON C. MARCHI
Chief of Staff

The aims of the American Legion are of such a high character as to make certain its success and its real value to the country at large. The experience of the war cannot fail to have had a broadening effect upon every soldier who engaged in it, and the lessons of duty to country and of loyalty to the form of government represented by the United States have been thoroughly learned by the men of the American army. The American Legion aims to perpetuate the memories of a glorious page of our history, and its non-partisan character assures its long life and prosperity.

BY JOSEPHUS DANIELS
Secretary of the Navy

The continued mobilization for patriotic purposes of the Americans who served their country in the grim days of war will make for the preservation of the principles for which they fought valiantly and victoriously; it would be a distinct loss if the unity of spirit and the comradeship for better things should not be crystallized in such organized forces as to make these chivalric crusaders as invincible for real Americanism in peace as their valor and cheerfulness made them invincible and glorious in war. My greetings and gratitude to these men who gave a new glory to the flag.

A Womans' Warning

Why will women continue to drag around in misery, suffering with the ailments peculiar to their sex, that drag them down to misery and despair, with backache, nervousness, the blues, derangements and irregularities, when there is a proved remedy for just such conditions?

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming these ailments until it is now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

For Twenty Years the Friend of This Woman

Akron, Ohio.—"I am fifty-one years old and going through the Change of Life, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing me lots of good. I felt run-down and weak but since taking the Vegetable Compound I am much stronger and better. I can eat and sleep, am gaining flesh and can do more work than I have for some time. Twenty years ago your Vegetable Compound helped me during childbirth. I wish you would print this in your paper so that other women may read it. There is nothing better for the relief of suffering womanhood than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It does away with sickness and nervousness which is very often responsible for the lack of perfect harmony in the home."

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS
ARE REDUCED

The following letter from the safety committee of the southern division of the Boston & Maine railroad is self-explanatory:

United States Railroad Administration
Boston & Maine Railroad
Concord, N. H., Nov. 10, 1919.

The southern division safety committee of the Boston & Maine railroad gratefully acknowledges the hearty cooperation of all who helped to make the recent no-accident drive a success.

The enthusiasm of the railroad brotherhoods and other organizations, the work of the various committees, and the splendid spirit of co-operation manifested by the press, the clergy, chambers of commerce, the schools on this division, is highly commendable and deeply appreciated by railroad men, in whose behalf the humanitarian effort was made.

The comparison of improvement between the railroads of the country or between those of the eastern region is not yet compiled.

On the Boston & Maine system, including shops, the casualties to employees on duty were reduced from 74 to 39 or 47 per cent. compared with the same period of 1918.

On the southern division, including Concord and Billerica shops, the reduction in personal injury accidents was 52 1/2 per cent.

Concord shop improved 62 per cent. and Billerica shop 51 per cent.

While the figures indicate the reduction in the number of accidents to employees during the no-accident drive, the beneficial results of the campaign of safety, in the lessons taught cannot be measured in figures.

Safety Committee, Southern Division, Boston & Maine Railroad.

W. R. MOONEY,
Chairman.

Secretary.

SUNDAY PICTURES

Discussed by Theatre Managers and Censorship Board

The local Theatrical Managers' association held a conference with members of the local censorship board yesterday at 4:30 p. m. in the mayor's reception room at city hall and the meeting developed into a get-together session in which Manager Walter J. Nelson of the Merrimack Square theatre, president of the association, pointed out how rigid a state censorship controls the showing of pictures here on Sundays. Unless a picture has been approved by the state board as fit for presentation on Sunday it cannot be shown here, he said.

Another question discussed was the presence of children at the theatre entrances begging for pennies, presumably for the purpose of going to the theatre but in most cases to buy candy. It was realized that this will be difficult to stop owing to the juvenile laws and it was agreed that the only effective method would be to urge the public to stop giving money.

SERVICE IN THE
MEDICAL CORPS

Opportunity for service in the medical corps of the army is being offered to young men of Lowell. A well equipped ambulance has been stationed at Paige and Bridge streets for the past few days and will remain there during the balance of this week. The recruiting work is in charge of Private J. Snyder and Private John Gilmartin. Both men will be very glad to explain the many advantages gained through enlistment in the medical corps.

Service buttons for discharged men continue to be distributed once a week at the local regular army recruiting station in Merrimack street. Capt. I. H. Angell of Boston comes to Lowell tomorrow and will give out the buttons between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock. Men who are unable to go at that time may secure buttons by leaving discharge papers with Sergeant McLeod, in charge. Nearly 1000 buttons have been distributed so far.

U. S. SOLDIERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The bodies of 111 American soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice in the north Russian campaign returned home last night when the army transport Daraga, in sombre gray, poked its nose through the mists off Sandy Hook and silently entered the harbor.

No screaming whistles from blustering little tugboats; no blasts from mighty transatlantic liners; no cheers from shore and crowd-lined skyscrapers greeted these returning heroes. But the chairman of the mayor's committee of welcome, Rodman Wanamaker, who had led other welcomes—when living heroes were met with wild ovation—boarded the Daraga to receive the nation's dead when the vessel slipped into her flag-draped dock shortly after 10:30.

Acting under orders from Major General Shanks, officials refused to permit newspapermen on the pier, "until this morning" when the funeral service will be held.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION
OVER RHEUMATISM

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allergic Completely Vanishes. All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. A. W. Dunsen & Co. have been appointed agent for this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

POLICEWOMAN TALKS TO UNIVERSALISTS

Miss Emily Skilton, Lowell's first policewoman, was one of the speakers at the annual conference of the Universalist churches of Merrimack Valley, held yesterday in Grace Universalist church. She took for her topic: "A Policewoman's Story," and gave an interesting and vivid recital of the conditions which confront a police worker in Lowell today.

Other speakers were Rev. Clarence W. Cowling of Malden, Rev. Harold Pickett and Rev. H. E. Benton, pastor of the church. Dinner was served by the women of the church under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Stott.

There are fires in the Zoroastrian churches of Bombay that have not been allowed to go out since they were brought from Persia 1200 years ago.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below in what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

R. P. KEITH'S THEATRE.
"Petitcolas," the Hymer comedy at the Keith theatre, this week, gives splendid entertainment, and large audiences are enjoying it daily. Grace Dunbar Niles, the leading lady of the company, does some specially good work. Mme. Adelaide Herrmann, illusionist, mystifies completely with "Noah's Ark," and her other work is good. A speedy talker on popular topics is Ben Bernie, and other acts on the bill are: Jack Lavier, Henry & Moore, Gualana & Margareta and Chappelle & Stimetie.

OPERA HOUSE
Wonderful strong lines that ring with true patriotism, the kind that grips one and makes him think and ponder, punctuate John Meehan's latest play, "A Man in the Open," which is being so cleverly and satisfactorily produced this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. The story is a well connected, cleverly conceived and interestingly carried out creation that delivers a message which has but one meaning: Man will surely get it if you attend one of the performances. Besides, there's a delightfully interesting romance attached that plays an important part in its progress and helps to make it one of the most entertaining offerings of the season. Mr. Meehan has the best part of his local career, while Mr. Crane, the juvenile man, Miss Fields and others, including Charles Stevens, an old favorite here, are seen in congenial roles. Don't miss seeing this excellently staged, cleverly interpreted, and finished production. Order your tickets early. Tel. 261 and have them reserved.

THE STRAND
"A Man in the Open." Dustin Farnum's latest pictureization, which will be shown for the first time on The Strand Screen today, is universally pronounced to be by far the strongest screen vehicle thus far provided for the star. Farnum's stage ability and his likable and virile personality have placed him in the forefront of present-day actors. The story of the picture play is a powerful romance of the big northwest and is closely based on the thrilling novel of the same name by Roger Penock, and as its name indicates is staged largely in the great outdoors. Mr. Farnum will be seen in the role of Sailor Jesse, wrecked on an ocean voyage, drifted into the company of a rugged landman, and tricked into marriage by an adventuress. Then followed his startling adventures in the great forests and mountains where he lives as The Man in the Open, and where the startling denouement of the great story takes place. See it, for it's classed as one of Farnum's best.

The other big feature for the week-end is Gladys Brockwell, the William Fox star in a photoplay called "Chasing Rainbows," in which she portrays a working girl with a heart so big that, despite her troubles, it has plenty of room for troubles of others. And the brave girl finally finds the proverbial pot of gold at the end of her rainbow. Most of the scenes take place in and around one of the big chain of railroad restaurants run by a corporation. The story as related in advance is full of situations that bulge with pathos, humor and tragedy. It is a western play and Miss Brockwell is said to do superb leading support. A new comedy and weekly are also shown.

DELAY SALE OF 4 P. C. BEER IN PROVIDENCE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 13.—Saloons in this city will not be permitted to reopen immediately for the sale of 4 per cent beer, notwithstanding the granting yesterday of a preliminary injunction restraining federal officials from the enforcement of war-time prohibition.

Walter A. Presbrey, chairman of the board of police commissioners, announced this morning that in his opinion the action taken yesterday by Federal Judge Arthur I. Brown, did not affect the action of the police in closing the saloons when the prohibition enforcement act became effective on Oct. 25. Saloon, cafe, and hotel proprietors day.

generally said that they were ready to reopen after a decree had been entered restraining officials from interfering with the manufacture and sale of non-intoxicants by the three local breweries to which the injunction was granted.

A draft decree of this nature was presented to Judge Brown this afternoon by Michael J. Lynch, counsel for the plaintiff breweries. Immediately after an approved decree should have been entered it was the intention of United States Attorney Harvey A. Barker to ask the court for a supersedeas to stay the enforcement of the injunction until an appeal might be heard by the United States circuit court of appeals in Boston.

ILLINOIS COAL MINERS QUIT THEIR PORTS

DUQUOIN, Ill., Nov. 13.—Complying with an order issued by local union miners, following a mass meeting here of members of the United Mine Workers, all holisting engineers, firemen, pumpmen, mule feeders and other union men who have been permitted to keep the mines in the 12th district in working order, left their posts last night.

The mine superintendents, managers, top foremen, assistant bosses and office clerks were immediately called upon to fill the places of the men who had quit. Whether this is a violation of the injunction granted the government by Federal Judge Anderson at Indianapolis was not generally known among either operators or miners, as the call was made at a mass meeting and not directly by officials of the Duquoin miners.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 13.—Reports received here by operators said union men left in two mines at Benton to care for company property under the terms of the strike order had deserted their posts today, following similar action at Duquoin. The walkout was said to be a protest against obedience of international officials to the federal court mandate to call off the strike.

12 LIVES LOST WHEN FRENCH
BARK WAS RUN DOWN IN CHANNEL

DOVER, England, Nov. 13.—Twelve lives were lost when the French bark Colbert was run down in the English channel, off Portland, by the British steamer Dunerle. Two survivors have been landed here.

ANOTHER EX-SOLDIER IS FIRED UPON

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 13.—Geo. Paxton, Centralia, former soldier, was fired upon before daybreak today as he was patrolling a road between Centralia and Chehalis, near the bridge where the alleged Industrial Worker of the World was lynched Tuesday night.

Police, national guardsmen and former soldiers searched vainly for several hours for the man who fired the shot. Paxton was not hit.

TRAIN WRECKED
FIREMAN KILLED

BERLIN, N. H., Nov. 13.—A local passenger train on the Whitefield and Jefferson branch of the Boston & Maine railroad, was derailed when it ran into a washout between here and Groveton this morning, killing Fireman Goodwin and injuring the engineer. The passengers were uninjured. One of the two engines on the train went over the bank, and the baggage and mail cars stuck in the washout.

Then there is quite a large group of Britishers who have been living in Washington for the period of the war and who have delayed their return to England until after the prince's visit. Most of them planned to return to their homes overseas early this fall but are staying until the end of November. Mrs. James McDonald is among the English women socially active in Washington. She is going to open her London home this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Graham Glasgow are going back to old London town late in November. They have taken an active part in Washington society for several seasons now. Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell are visiting in this country also. The latter is accompanied by the duchess.

MAY SELL FAMOUS ABBEY

Burden of Paying Off War Debt to Fall on Church
of England

LONDON, Nov.—(By Associated Press).—Observers of Great Britain's financial problems attach some significance to a suggestion made recently that the main burden of paying off the huge national debt created by the war should be laid upon the church of England and the church of Scotland, more particularly on the former. The proposal is that all their property, including Westminster Abbey should be sold and converted into cash for the relief of the debt afflicted country.

The attention attracted by the idea is due largely to its source, it being brought forward by the Statist, one of the widely read journals of finance and trade. The writer of this article asserts that the annual interest charge of $500,000,000 which he estimates that England is facing, will hang like a millstone around the nation's neck unless got rid of. Hence the necessity of making a big hole in the debt "by one large sacrifice," with those who have the most money contributing the most in the emergency.

"There is no reason," argues the writer, "why the church of England should be supported by the whole population. It is not believed in by the whole population and therefore it has lost all right to exact support from those who do not attend its services. What is wanted now is that the whole property of the church, without exception, should be used for the freeing of the country from debt."

"It has been suggested that very little could be got for Westminster Abbey. We differ entirely. We believe that a very large sum could be got for Westminster Abbey. The wise course would be to put the Abbey up at auction and allow every great church to bid for it."

SOCIAL AND DANCE

Members of Pilgrim chapter, No. 54, Order of the Eastern Star, conducted a happy social and dance last evening at the Highland clubhouse. It was well along toward midnight before the party came to an end. Dr. Adam Shaw was in general charge, assisted by Alexander Semple, Jr., Mrs. Alice B. Long, Mrs. James B. Gourley, Mrs. Eva D. Lewis, Mrs. Marguerite Bennett, Lewis Carpenter, W. E. Sargent, David Harlow and Fernald Gould. The matrons were Mrs. W. E. Sargent, Mrs. Sarah Mooney, Mrs. Alexander Semple, Jr., Mrs. Alice B. Long and Mrs. Louisa Hale.

PUTTING UP STORM GUARDS

One of the perennial indications of the approach of winter came to the fore yesterday when employees of the public property department started putting up storm guards on various bridges throughout the city. The Central bridge is arrayed in its winter garb.

STRANGE CASE LITTLE CURED AFTER BEING GIVEN UP AS HOPELESS

LAWRENCE, May 21.—The strange case of Joseph Little of this city is causing no end of talk. Today he weighs 175 lbs. while in November his weight was 21. At that time Little's friends gave him up, believing him to be in the last stages of consumption.

For some months Little was an inmate of the Cottage hospital. While there Supt. James J. Stanley took an especial interest in this case. And a strange feature of the case is that a nurse of the hospital prepared and administered to him a concoction, now known as Sister Mary's Compound. With good care Little improved and in a few months was able to leave the hospital a "new man." Little entered the hospital suffering with a stomach trouble and a bad cough. Consumption was his disease, so it was thought. He was even sent to Colorado. Soon after he returned seemingly no better. However, he was taken by Supt. Stanley and given a berth at the local hospital. His nurse there well cared for him as Mr. Stanley can testify. Today Little's friends do not know him he is so changed. The Lawrence situation has had many peculiar cases, but the transforming of Little, a helpless physical wreck, to Little a well and strong man, is the most remarkable in local medical history. (Extract from the Boston Record, March 24, 1906).

July 7, 1919.
502 Main St., Stoneham, Mass.
I received the bottle of Sister Mary's Compound and it helped me wonderfully. It checked that awful pain in my stomach and bowels. I am very much improved and back on the train. It surely was a God Send to get relief.

I am very truly yours,
C. A. FICKETT.

B. & M. R. R., Conductor.
Letters received from all parts of the country testify to the wonderful results received from Sister Mary's Compound. Copies of these will be sent on request.

LOWELL DEFEATED IN JOE LYNCH DEFEATS
OVERTIME GAME KID HERMAN

FALL RIVER, Nov. 13.—Lowell was defeated in a hard-fought overtime game here last night. The score was tied virtually all through the contest but after 14 minutes and 45 seconds of overtime play George Hart shot one into the cage from the sidelines and won for Fall River. The work of Pence at goal for Lowell was the feature. Slater played first rush for Lowell in the place of Davies. The score:

POLO NOTES
The league officials are to meet Sunday and act on the Dufresne case.

Lawrence will play Lowell at the Crescent rink on Friday night. A record crowd is expected to turn out.

New Bedford smashed all attendance records on Tuesday night when 4000 turned out to see the game between the Whalers and the Fall River Tigers.

Young Davies, being laid up with boils, will be out of the game for some time. Slater, an experienced player, who has been in the league three seasons, has been secured to play first rush.

The action of Referee Carroll in Tuesday's game was the only course possible if the game is to survive, and he made many friends by his handling of the situation.

Referees are appointed to run the games and insist on respect of the rules of the game. If hot-headed players ignore these rules and get away with it, well "good night" to the old game.

Dufresne is a good polo player, but as a leader, if his exhibition here on the holiday is a criterion, he's not there. A captain of a team should have some consideration for the fans, the ones who make the games possible, the ones who pay their good money to see polo, and who have a right to expect and demand a run for their money. If the fans should decide to remain away from the games, and such tactics as employed by this player will certainly produce that result, polo players will be forced to seek employment in other lines. It's like killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. And again if a captain violates the rules, why can't other players do so? The leader should set a good example if there is to be any discipline in a game.

Cured His Rupture
I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Sullivan, carpenter, 1237 Marceline avenue, Manhattan, N. Y. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.

A LITTLE JAUNT
57-Year-Old "Ped" Would Hike to 'Frisco

Charles H. Donnelly, a mule splinter at the Acushnet mill, Fall River, formerly of Lowell where he was widely known as a long distance walker, has announced his willingness to accept a wager of $500 and challenge from James Aspinwall of the American Thread Co. of Wilmamette, Conn., for a walking race from Portland, Me., to San Francisco, Cal., a distance of approximately 3000 miles.

Although Charlie is 57 years old, he is not kidding about this overland hike and is so sure of his ability to heel and toe the younger Aspinwall to defeat that he will slip $500 off the roll as a clincher.

Donnelly did not begin to walk long distances until just a few years ago when he decided that he would walk for exercise to "keep young." He has several long foot journeys to his credit. It is and invariably has taken his walks alone. Now, however, he craves companionship and hopes Mr. Aspinwall will stand back of his challenge. If he loses the race will be started next spring. Donnelly has hiked from North Adams to Troy, N. Y., 50 miles, in 22 hours; from North Adams to Springfield 61 miles, in 18 hours; from North Adams to Boston, 100 miles, in 48 hours, and from North Adams to Chicago, 1050 miles, in 22 days.

Local fans are looking forward with great interest to the Nearney-Avella bout scheduled for Thanksgiving day.

The local matchmaker is trying to hook up Paul Doyle and Eddie Moy. It would be a great bout.

Slater and Moy made many friends here on the holiday and fans would like to see either or both in action again.

Frank Molins continues to add victories to his record. He's a fine performer and can always be depended upon to make a satisfactory showing. He is game to the core and seems to be at his best when the odds are greatest. His performance here against Carroll, and his classy exhibition at Fitchburg on the holiday, gave him a great boost.

JIMMY WILDE IN U. S.
FOR SEVERAL BOUTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The steamship Baltic of the White Star line brought to these shores a young boxer who has been talked about almost as much in Great Britain as any of the leading generals of the war. Jimmy Wilde, who packs away in his 100 pounds of bone and muscle some mysterious force which enables him to knock out men weighing 15 to 20 pounds more than he, has come on a trip of pleasure and profit to the United States. Back in England he has been hailed because of his sensational fights in the ring and the Britons tried hard to prevail on him to remain in his native land. He said yesterday at the Imperial hotel, where he is quartered for the present, that he had always been keen to see the United States and wanted to avail himself of the opportunity while he was still a drawing card.

Wilde is only five feet two inches tall, but he is broad of shoulder for his stature. In his street clothes he is a well put up little man with a pleasing smile which shows the traces of his profession with the exception of a slight scar across the bridge of his nose, which he received in his last bout with Pal Moore, the American bruiser. In spite of the honing which he has been subject to, he is not a bit "up-stage." He has a keen sense of humor and apparently has a very alert mind and is well spoken, in spite of the fact that he received his education in the hard work of a coal mine from the time he was 12 years old until he was 22.

The Briton has three bouts in view before he boxes in this city, with probably either Pal Moore or Joe Lynch. His first appearance will be in Milwaukee either on Thanksgiving or Dec. 1, when he will meet a boy who is thought very well of in that city, or Young Marino. There is a tentative date for him at St. Paul on Dec. 15, and then the party will journey to California, where Wilde expects to be matched with some boy on the coast. He is due back here the first week in January, and has been invited to do his training on Long Island of a member of the International Sporting club.

Wilde says he can easily do 100 pounds, and weighed only 103 when he fought Pal Moore and 97½ when he boxed Zulu Kid.

He acquired his skill in the booths at the country fairs, where he took on all comers of his weight, sometimes meeting more than a dozen a day. He has been in more than 300 fights, and Tancy Lee, now the British featherweight champion, is the only one who stopped him. That was in 1914. The following year Wilde knocked him out.

MAJORS AND MINORS
SIGN ARMISTICE
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 13.—Business relations between the minor and major baseball leagues, which were strained a year ago with the abrogation of the national agreement, will be resumed as a result of action in its annual meeting at the Hotel Hamilton in New York City. Secretary John H. Farrell's report following an all day executive session of the minors has decided it is best to work in harmony with the major leagues.

Among other things the new agreement would mean the re-establishment of the drafts and optional agreements. A general revision of the salary limits of the minor leagues was made. The Class AA clubs were given permission to increase their monthly limit to $3500 and other leagues were granted proportional increases.

The request of Class A clubs for one more representative on the national board of arbitration was granted by the elevation of President of the National League of the Eastern League from Class B to Class A, the rating which the Eastern league now has.

J. Cal. Ewing of Oakland, California, was elected to president of the national association to succeed A. T. Baum of San Francisco, retired.

The only other business of the day consisted of passing of resolutions and consisted of committees, followed by a banquet last evening. No new awards were announced by the arbitration board yesterday afternoon or evening.

Annual Meeting Tomorrow
SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 13.—With many of the more vital questions settled in yesterday's closed sessions, the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues set itself today to the task of clearing up a mass of minor matters. There was a possibility that the annual meeting might be held over into tomorrow. A distinct feeling of relief was manifested by the minor league leaders today at having put several of the larger problems behind them. This was particularly true as regards the vexed question of renewing relations with the major leagues. The situation had been highly unsatisfactory during the last year and in naming a committee to take up this matter the minors put themselves in a receptive position and left the next step up to the majors. This question of renewing a national agreement included the draft problem which as it had worked out in the last year the minors feel had been distinctly to their disadvantage.

Give the world
the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money and a fine family, but—

He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling, "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you will ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Shove off!

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Lieut. R. M. Douglas of the Australian flying corps, and Lieut. J. S. L. Ross, his navigator, who started from Hounslow this morning for a flight to Australia, were killed shortly after they began their journey, when their airplane crashed near Sutton, in Surrey.

NC-4 Makes New Record

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Piloted by Lieut. Commander Read, the naval seaplane NC-4, which made the first Transatlantic flight, recently, established a new non-stop record for that type of craft when carrying 12 passengers, it flew from Pensacola, Fla., to Memphis, Tenn., a distance of 535 nautical miles, the secretary of the navy announced today.

Due to head winds, a speed of only 56 knots per hour was maintained. The total flying time was nine hours and 33 minutes, about 10 minutes less than the flying time made by the NC-4 on its flight from Punta Delgada to Lisbon in the Transatlantic trip.

RYAN MAKES DENIAL

Former Head of Aircraft
Production Answers Accusations of Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Denial of accusations contained in a telegram sent to Secretary Baker by Representative Frear, Wisconsin, and Mages of New York, majority members of the house sub-committee investigating aircraft expenditures, was made today by John D. Ryan of New York, former second assistant secretary of war, who had charge of aircraft production during the war.

In a statement presented to the committee, Mr. Ryan said: "Such an intemperate and unfounded charge is contained in the telegram that it is somewhat difficult to make specific answer to its contents. An examination of the message discloses that it is more by way of innuendo and insinuation, than by direct charges, that reflections of the gravest character, involving my personal integrity and official acts, are made."

The Frear-Mages telegram charged that a railroad from Lake Pleasant to Crescent lake in the state of Washington, cost the government $115,000 per mile and represented a total expenditure of $5,000,000.

The expenditure referred to, the Ryan statement said, "covered not only the cost of the 36 miles of main line railroad, but also expenditures made in connection with terminal facilities, yards, sidetracks and appurtenances of every kind except rolling stock, which went into the construction of the railway and constituted a part thereof."

Replied to this, Mr. Ryan stated "It is probably the first time in history that a majority of a committee vested with judicial authority not only indulged in accusations which were unfounded, but endeavored to bolster public opinion in the impression that there had been a grave dereliction of duty, by engaging in prophecy."

Who is the champion dancer in Merimack valley?
This question has been asked many times and while residents in several cities and towns in the section claim the honor of having the title holder, the logical champion has never been determined.

It is reported that the plan to conduct a contest to establish the champion, in arranging for the big contest it was necessary to establish headquarters in Lawrence, Mass., and Lowell, and this has been done. In each city the dancers have been invited to send in their names and already a long list of entrants has been received.

The contest will run for four nights. There will be three preliminary or elimination contests, with the winners on these nights competing in the grand finale.

The first night of the contest will be Tuesday evening, November 18, and the others will be held on successive Tuesday nights. On each of the three nights three winners will be selected, these qualifying for the final.

There will be $200 in cash prizes, $10 to be awarded the winning couple on each of the first three nights, and the remainder of the purse to the winners, or champions on the final night, which will be December 9.

The contest will be staged at Associated hall, and Silver-Doyle's orchestra will furnish the music.

Morris Pearl and partner of Lawrence, James Jones and partner of Lowell and Dominick Monahan and partner of this city, were among the first to signify their intentions of competing. Others are sending in their names. The more the merrier. Entrants may send names to The Sun office, in care of W. Sullivan.

Silk was first made by Si Ling, wife of Hoang-Ti, emperor of China, in the year 2690 B.C.

IDENTIFY MAN LYNCHED BY MOB

Criminal Information Against 20 Members of I.W.W. at Centralia, W.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 13.—The man who was lynched here Tuesday night after four members of the American Legion had been shot and killed during an Armistice day celebration was identified early today as Ernest Everetts, by a woman who conducted the rooming house where Everetts lived. He was working here as an I.W.W. organizer, the woman said.

This identification was partly borne out when the police went through effects found in the rooms occupied by the man. These included receipts for Industrial Workers of the World literature and blank receipts for membership dues in the I.W.W., according to the police. The body had been previously identified as that of "Blick" Smith, secretary of the local branch of the I.W.W.

Criminal information against 26 alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World, has been prepared for filing today with the county clerk. All information, it was understood, allege either participation in or criminal knowledge of the killing of four members of the American Legion.

One Woman Among Prisoners

Of the 26 alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World in jail, one is a woman. She was manager of the lodging house from which the fatal shots are alleged to have been fired at the marching Legioners.

Further indication that federal prosecution awaited those accused of complicity in the shooting, was contained in a statement made by Robert L. Saunders, United States district attorney.

Charges Against All I.W.W. Members

"In my judgment, the I.W.W. have gone far enough with their acts to emphasize the truth that their principle is the overturning of the government, including the federal government," Saunders was quoted as saying. "If that is so, and can be established by the evidence, every individual I.W.W. is guilty of that crime."

"I shall place charges against every one of the men arrested. The complaint will be placed before the United States commissioner at Tacoma and I believe that my evidence will be conclusive enough to hold all of them for the federal grand jury."

Military Funeral

The local post of the American Legion has made plans for a military funeral tomorrow for the four former service men killed during the parade.

Resolutions demanding drastic action by state and federal authorities against radical organizations have been adopted by American Legion posts and other organizations in many Pacific coast cities.

Through its commander, the Yakima, Wash., post sent telegrams to United States Senators Wesley Jones and Miles Polinder, demanding that steps be taken immediately to "enact proper legislation to exterminate the Industrial Workers of the World and other radical organizations inimical to the government."

ESCH R.R. BILL

Progress of Measure Now
Before House Delayed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Progress on the Esch railroad bill now before the house has been delayed by opposition to the provision providing for the refunding to the government of $775,551,000 owed by the carriers. A substitute, offered yesterday by Representative Denison, republican, Illinois, will be considered today.

Before taking your train home from the Esch bill, the Sun at other points in the North station.

EDWARD F. M'SWENEY COMING HERE

The Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church will stage a most enjoyable evening of entertainment and instruction next Wednesday evening, Nov. 13, in St. Patrick's school hall, Suffolk street, at 8 p. m. The principal speaker of the occasion will be Hon. Edward F. McSweney of Boston, who will speak on "Ireland's Place in the World of Liberty." Mr. McSweney is a member of the state advisory board on Irish freedom and also a member of the national committee on Irish freedom. He is a former collector of the port of Boston and was previously chairman of the committee on industrial accident insurance. Mr. McSweney is considered an authority on political, economic and educational matters and has given deep study to the Irish question.

In addition to Mr. McSweney's lecture, the society will hold a smoke talk and there will be musical numbers and moving pictures. Refreshments will be served. Inasmuch as this is the first reunion of the society this season, a large attendance is expected.

The arrangements are in charge of James O'Sullivan, chairman of the general committee; William J. Pendergast, president of the society, and Timothy Rahan, chairman of the refreshment and concert committee.

CHARMEUSE IN COPPER TINT

BY BETTY BROWN
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The gown sketched above is one which creates an instantly favorable impression at matinee or tea. Charmeuse in copper color is combined with georgette crepe of a shade lighter than the foundation yet suggesting the same color. The georgette is heavily embroidered in the tulle with dull blue silk floss in a maze-like design.

Except for a tiny yoke effect of the charmeuse extending above the wide pleated belt of this material, the waist is entirely of georgette, with a circular neck and bell sleeves, trimmed only with bands of blue embroidery. A double row of tiny blue metal buttons appear to balance the whole frock, running from the opening at the neck to the edge of the yoke.

Donat Belleville, 222 Cumberland road, was the only man forwarded from the Lowell naval recruiting station today by Chief Vary. He signed up as ship's cook.

The dinner to be given for the rotating committees and executive workers of the Lowell Community club, originally scheduled for Monday evening, next, has been postponed to Nov. 24, because of the inability to attend of Joseph Lee, national organization president. The executive committee of the club will meet next Monday night, with dinner at 6.30 o'clock, followed by a business session.

A very successful community meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Bartlett school, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. John H. Lambert; vice president, Miss Helen W. Noyes; secretary, Mrs. Everett Moore; treasurer, Mrs. Michael Donahoe. After the business meeting, a short musical program was given under the direction of Miss Amy Tucker. Tea was served by members of the cooking class with Miss Noyes and Miss Sunbury in charge.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at St. Louis' church when Mr. Thomas Minault, a well known member of St. Joseph's parish and Miss Marianne Beauregard, a popular young woman of Centralville, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Libouster. The bride, who was attired in white satin with silver trimmings and carried bridal roses, was given away by her father, Mr. Louis Beauregard, while the bridegroom was attended by his father, Mr. Alphonse Minault. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, 35 Campaw street and later Mr. and Mrs. Minault, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left on a honeymoon trip to Boston, Natick, Rhode Island and New York, and upon their return next Saturday they will make their home at 35 Campaw street.

McDonald-Turner.
Mr. Hector Grant McDonald, of Greene, R. I., and Miss Annie Pauline Turner of this city were married last evening, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Turner, 92 Stevens street by Rev. A. S. Beale. Miss Florence Turner, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while the best man was Mr. Karl Turner, a brother of the bride. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Montreal. They will make their home in Hamilton, Ont.

Buron-Lepine.
The marriage of Mr. William Buron of Worcester and Miss Stella Lepine, a former resident of this city and now of Worcester, took place yesterday at St. Joseph's church, Worcester, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph Alford. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Maxime Lepine of this city, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Fernando Buron. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Benjamin Lepine and later Mr. and Mrs. Buron left on a wedding trip to Canada. They will make their home in Worcester.

Lozeau-Laurent.
Mr. Edouard Lozeau and Miss Lucina Laurent were married November 9 at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I. The witnesses were Messrs. Philippe Lozeau and Olivier Laurent.

Gallagher-Coughlin.
Mr. William F. Gallagher and Miss Elizabeth J. Coughlin were married Monday at St. Margaret's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Stephen Murray. Mr. John F. Adams acted as best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Mary Burke. The couple will make their home at 28 Coral street.

"JAKY" RESPONSIBLE FOR THREE ARRESTS

Down from the city of Greenfield yesterday afternoon came John Cunningham, David Barrett and Edward McMahon. They bought several bottles of "Jaky," did the three travellers, and settled down for the night in a room on Middlesex street.

This morning the trio appeared in police court, all somewhat battered, on charges of drunkenness. With them was the proprietor of the lodging house who declared that one perfectly good bed, an equally reliable chair and two window panes had been ruined by the Greenfield men during their sojourn. They were arrested by Patrolman Tassafaras late last evening.

About $17 would take care of the damage thought the proprietor, John, David and Edward emphatically declared that they didn't have this amount on hand.

"And, anyway," said John, who

Brown Your Hair With "Brownatone"

Every woman knows that a pretty face loses its beauty when framed by faded, gray, streaked or bleached hair. Even the wrinkles and blemishes are not so disagreeable as streaked or faded hair. It is unfair to your family and yourself, to look older than you really are.

"It's So Easy Now to Have Beautiful Hair."

"Brownatone" will tint your streaked, faded or bleached hair to any shade of rich, soft brown, or glossy black if preferred, and take ten years off your looks. Cannot be detected, will not rub or wash off and is odorless and greaseless.

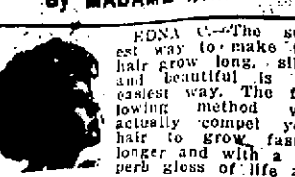

Absolutely Harmless
This safe and harmless preparation is used by thousands of women in business and in society.

Apply it yourself with comb or brush. The results will delight you. Guaranteed safe and free from lead, sulphur, silver, mercury, zinc, aniline or coal tar products. ## Beauty Answers By MADAME D'AREE

HONA C.—The surest way to make the hair grow long, silky and beautiful is the easiest way. The following method will actually compel your hair to grow faster, longer and with a superb gloss of life and vigor than anything else known. You can do it, as thousands of others have already done. A few days' use of this formula will convince you that what I say is right. Not half of its wonderful work has been told. Just try it. Hair will stop falling, thin spots will fill in, and your hair will be the envy of your many friends. Add one ounce of beta-quinel, 50 cents' worth, to a half-pint each of bay rum and water (or a full pint of which hazel instead), and mix thoroughly. Use this mixture liberally every day. It is not oily, and is very pleasant to use. You will find it exceedingly economical.

BERTHA T.—Here is a wrinkle formula which has never failed to do perfect work. You can make it at home in a few moments, and it costs less than any wrinkle treatment you can get at the stores already prepared. Get a two-ounce package of epitol, 50 cents' worth, and mix this with two tablespoonsful of glycerine in half a pint of water. Apply liberally every day. The skin will grow more plump, and deep lines, crow's feet and other large and small wrinkles will gradually fill out and vanish.

HIRSHUTE.—You can be sure that there is but one sensible way to remove hairs from the upper lip and, in fact, from any part of the body. It is foolish to "thru" them off, injuring and spotting the skin. Just moisten the hairs with sulfo solution, secured from the drug store for one dollar. This will actually dissolve away the hairs completely, and leave the skin superbly soft and smooth. It will not irritate the most delicate skin.—Adv.

proved the most valuable of the trio, "we couldn't have done all that damage in one night."

Judge Enright suggested that a month in jail might be a good prescription for the three.

Whereupon John, David and Edward began a vigorous and hurried search for funds with which to make restitution and ward off the impending sentence.

"I've got $5," announced John. "There's my share," laying down a five-dollar note.

"Me, too," chimed David, also producing a greenback from his jeans. All eyes were focussed on Edward.

"Come on—dig it up!" pleaded John and David.

So Edward "dug." But the digging was not productive of results until finally he fished a battered-looking five spot from the inner recesses of his shirt and triumphantly placed it beside the others.

The proprietor agreed that $15 would be acceptable and the cases were placed on file.

John, David and Edward are going to Nashua, N. H. they said—that is, if their shoes hold out.

Assault and Battery

Found guilty of assault and battery on Edmond Moreau, Mary Palardeau was fined $3. According to testimony, Mary had visited Edmond's cobbler shop one day last week and slapped his face following an argument about a recent fracas in which the children of the two had been the main participants.

On a charge of reckless driving, Anthony R. Corey of Ayer pleaded not guilty and had his case continued one week. Corey is the driver of the machine, so the police allege, which on Sunday evening crashed through the store front of a Middlesex street clothier.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

John King, a resident of Ross avenue and an employee of the Massachusetts Mohair Plush Co., had a narrow escape from being killed by a freight car at the Western avenue crossing this morning. As it was, he received a fracture of the arm and severe cuts about the head. It seems that King was riding to work on a freight car and when the train reached the Western avenue crossing at about 7 o'clock, he jumped from the car and slipped, falling on the tracks, but as luck favored him he was not run over. The ambulance was summoned and the injured man was taken to St. John's hospital.

PRINCE OF WALES IS GREETED AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Albert, Edward, Prince of Wales, last night attended the most formal event of his stay here, a reception to which all members of congress and their families had been invited to meet him. Members of the cabinet and a diplomatic corps also attended.

The halls of the library of congress were the scene of the gathering, and the prince received the American legislators in the midst of historic documents dealing with the separation of the American colonies from the empire over which he is destined to reign. The prince went to the reception from the home of Sec. Lansing, where the secretary and Mrs. Lansing had entertained him at dinner.

Visits Wounded Men

The prince earlier in the day paid homage to American soldiers wounded in France when he inspected the Walter Reed Military Hospital and in a brief address hailed those men who have paid the price of liberty as "my comrades in arms."

A score of men wounded at Chateau-Thierry were drawn up in wheel chairs on the lawn of the hospital when the prince arrived. He turned at once to them and moving along the line, greeted each with words of sympathy and comradeship.

The prince also inspected the wards where the most seriously wounded men were lodged. He went from bedside to bedside and inquired as to the nature of each man's injuries and how he had been wounded.

The prince also was enrolled formally as a member of the American Red Cross during the day, paying a good American dollar for the honor during his visit to Red Cross headquarters. The badge of membership was pinned among the war decorations on his breast by Mrs. Farrand, wife of Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Red Cross central committee.

"May I in return present you with a dollar, which, I think, is the proper thing?" the prince said, as he received the badge.

The dollar he tendered and his autograph were placed beside those of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium in the society's museum.

The only other formal event of the prince's day was his inspection of the Lincoln Memorial, nearing completion beside the Potomac, but he added to his program in the afternoon, which had been left for him to dispose of as he saw fit, a call at the home of Mrs. George Dewey, widow of Admiral Dewey, the hero of Manila Bay.

WILSON AND LODGE PAY TRIBUTE TO MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The death of Senator Martin, the democratic leader, who passed away at Charlottesville, Va., yesterday was announced to the senate by his colleague Senator Swanson, and the senate as a mark of respect adjourned immediately, after adopting resolutions providing for a committee of 16 senators to attend funeral services.

The following were appointed as the committee: Senators Swanson, Lodge, Cummins.

OLD ENGLISH REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh of the nose, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. In England catarrh of the nose has long been recognized as a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalants and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climatic conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmitin (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmitin used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic effect which helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

President Wilson yesterday telegraphed Miss Lucy Day Martin, daughter of Senator Martin, his sympathy and grief at the death of her father, saying:

"May I not express my deep sympathy and sense of personal grief in the death of your distinguished father? I regarded him as one of my warmest friends and feel that Virginia and the country has sustained a real loss."

Senator Swanson, in his brief eulogy, said Senator Martin's death was "a sacrifice on the altar of public service," superinduced by heavy duties in the senate during the war. Senator Swanson paid high tribute to Senator Martin's character and service.

Republican Leader Lodge also declared Senator Martin had "worn himself out in public service."

"I have been in service with Senator Martin for more than a quarter of a century," said Mr. Lodge. "He was a high-minded, honorable man, who devoted all his strength and all his ability to the public service. At this moment I can only think of the personal loss that has come to me."

SAYS AMERICANS ARE TO BE PROTECTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Sec. Lansing, in a statement yesterday designed "to make clear the government's attitude on the question of responsibility of Mexico for the safety of Americans in that country," declared it was "the privilege as well as the right" of this government by diplomatic intervention to see to it that justice is accorded its citizens and their rights given proper protection.

Mr. Lansing explained that he issued his statement because some newspapers in connection with the kidnapping of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, had made it appear that he had said "that Americans in Mexico had no greater rights to protection than Mexicans."

"To avoid being misunderstood as to this government's interpretation of the rule of international law on the subject of responsibility on the part of Mexico for the safety of Americans in that country, I make the following statement:

"While in general there is presumed to be no difference between the rights of aliens and the rights of natives to be treated fairly and justly under local laws and by the local authorities, nevertheless should the operation of the local laws or the acts of commission or omission by local authorities result in injustice to Americans or lack of adequate protection of their lives or property, it is the privilege as well international law, by diplomatic intervention, to see to it that justice is accorded to its citizens and their rights given proper protection.

"The reason for this is that when a condition of political unrest and lawlessness exists, such as obtains in certain parts of Mexico, aliens being denied proper protection by the authorities must rely on their government operating through diplomatic channels to obtain justice and security. This is a general statement and the basis of the policy followed by this government, though it is necessarily subject to modification in particular cases."

WHAT GOOD IS WEALTH
If you are in poor health, if almost everything that you eat distresses you, frequent headaches, pains in the stomach, bad taste in the mouth, dark rings under the eyes, etc.? The fact is, life is not worth living if you are a chronic sufferer from indigestion and biliousness.

When the stomach is out of order, the liver not working properly, your heart is obliged to do so much extra work, that it causes palpitation, faintness, and if not checked becomes dangerous.

To feel fresh and fit for your daily duties, you must keep your stomach well, your liver active, and the bowels regular; you can get into this healthy condition, by taking SHAW'S BARKS, as a digestive tonic, and stomach remedy. It has no equal, and 50 years of continuous sale proves its wonderful merit.

First at the root of your indigestion and constipation trouble by driving all poisons out of your system for good. No matter how chronic your case is, you can get quick relief by taking nature's remedy, SHAW'S BARKS; one bottle costing 50c will prove its value. After you have proven its wonderful efficiency, you will never be without it. Ask your druggist for it.—Adv.

How to Remove Wrinkles Quickly

If the average woman only knew it, it is not at all difficult to preserve the youthful contour and velvety smoothness of complexion. Every woman hates to see her face wrinkled or baggy, and practically every one has experimented with some sort of remove such condition or ward it off.

As a matter of fact, the most effective remedy in the world is one that any woman can easily make up herself at home, in a moment's time. Let her take one ounce of pure powdered castile, which she can purchase at any drug store, and dissolve it in a half pint of witch hazel. Apply this mixture every day for awhile. The result is surprising, to say the least. Even the very first application marks marked improvement in the face. Wrinkles are less in evidence and the face has a comfortable, snug feeling of firmness that is most delightful.—Adv.

FOR PROHIBITION OF TOBACCO

Anti-Saloon League Forces Join in War to Prohibit Tobacco

BY FREDERICK M. KERBY (N.E.A. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov.—Is prohibition of tobacco to follow prohibition of alcohol? Have the forces which successfully engineered the prohibition amendment to the constitution started the drive that is to end in the suppression of tobacco in America?

An unbiased investigation into the influence and forces at work leads to the conclusion that—

There is a well defined campaign under way, backed in large part by the forces which backed prohibition of the liquor traffic, which has for its ultimate object the prohibition of the sale and use of tobacco in every form.

Besides the many subsidiary groups and organizations which, like the auxiliary branches of an army, contribute to the success of the actual combat groups at the front, there are four well defined forces at work in the campaign against My Lady Nicotine.

These Four Are Fighting Tobacco

1.—The Anti-Cigarette League, with headquarters in Chicago, of which Lucy Page Gaston is the president, and which plans to secure 10,000,000 members in the United States.

2.—The temperance and moralists of the Methodist Episcopal church, headed by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

3.—The Woman's Christian Temperance union.

4.—The "Committee of Fifty," headed by Dr. Alexander Lambert of New York, and including some of the most prominent physicians and scientists in the United States, which is making a study of the effects of nicotine on the human system.

There is no present intention on the part of the anti-tobacco forces to work for a constitutional amendment to prohibit tobacco. The work which is going on is very similar to the work which was undertaken by the prohibition forces against the use of liquor in the first stages of its campaign. It consists of education, agitation, publicity, directed against tobacco, and particularly, at the present time, against the cigarette. The first legislative attempts will center in an effort to secure anti-cigarette legislation in those states the chances of success are best, and also to secure the enforcement of anti-cigarette legislation in those states which already have such laws, but where they are a "dead letter."

On Pacific Coast

The legislative attack will start in Oregon.

On September 1, there was filed with the secretary of state of Oregon, by D. E. Frost of Oregon City, an initiative petition covering the prohibition of "the sale, use or possession of cigarette" in Oregon.

Attorney General Brown of Oregon has prepared the ballot title for this anti-cigarette bill, and if it receives a sufficient number of signatures (it will require 10,000 signatures) it will be voted on by the people of Oregon in the general election of November, 1920.

Predictions of its overwhelming defeat are not worrying the anti-cigarette forces. They regard it as merely an entering wedge.

Oregon has been selected because it has no interest in tobacco growing, and because it is regarded as one of the best fields for the start of the movement.

The attempt to secure a drastic anti-cigarette law for Oregon follows the revival of enforcement of the anti-cigarette law in North Dakota. For years the law there has been a dead letter, but last May officials began to put life into the law and dealers were advised that they would be given a certain length of time in which to dispose of stocks of cigarettes on hand, after which time the law would be strictly enforced. Many dealers ceased selling cigarettes altogether; others put up the price 5 cents a package to recompense them for the risk they are taking. The general practice is to evade the law by keeping the cigarettes out of sight, but selling them just the same.

VON CAPELLE EXPLAINS SUBMARINE WAR

BERLIN, November 13 (By the Associated Press).—Vice Admiral Eduard von Capelle, former minister of the navy, was questioned Tuesday as to why more submarines were not built so that the submarine campaign could have been successful.

Hecklers at the national assembly sub-committee's investigation into the war having failed to get much information as to why the submarine campaign was not avoided, changed their tactics to questioning the former minister of the navy on submarine construction.

The admiral replied succinctly, in an endeavor to prove why submarine construction was retarded in 1916, and why it jumped enormously in 1917 and 1918.

Count von Bernstorff gauged the session correctly Tuesday morning when he asked the Associated Press correspondent: "Are you going to attend the performance this afternoon?"

A summary of his contribution to U-boat construction was read by von Capelle at the start of the session. "Eight hundred and ten submarines were built before and during the war," said the former minister of the navy. Of these 45 were constructed before the war; 156 were built during the administration of Admiral von Tirpitz and 579 were built by me in the two and a half years I was in office.

"I took office in April, 1916, and in the nine months remaining in that year I ordered built 50 U-boats; in 1917 I ordered 269; and in the nine months I was in office in 1918, I ordered 220."

It was here his questioning began. "Why was there such a discrepancy between 1916 and the two following years?" demanded Herr Gothein.

Von Capelle replied sharply:

"There are a number of reasons why so small a number was ordered in 1916. First the reichstag took an overwhelming stand against the submarine and I could not start to build because I saw myself in opposition to the government. Second, I had been out of the naval service and was unaware of the technical improvements in U-boat building and had to give ultimate study to the subject; and third, the Skagerrak battle caused serious damage to our boats. Their repair held up the construction of other boats."

Germany had decided to live up to international law and not sink merchantmen without warning, continued von Capelle, but he said he thought that in the fall of 1915 the admiral had issued a second order to attack British ships because England, "poisoned against us," had made the war of U-boats very difficult by mine which covered the entire North Sea. There was a demand for mine searchers, torpedo boats and motor boats which further reduced U-boat construction, he added.

Admiral von Capelle asserted he had been consulted three times with regard to submarine construction by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the first time when Herr Struve (a member of the reichstag) had presented to the chancellery a memorandum urging increase U-boat construction, which had been signed by George Gothein (another reichstag member); the second time when in 1917 the chancellor wrote saying U-boat construction must not be left out of consideration, showing, von Capelle said, that the chancellor counted on a long war, and third, when von Bethmann-Hollweg telegraphed the Deputy Reichsminister had expressed doubts whether Germany had enough U-boats, whereupon von Capelle said he visited the chancellor and assured him that everything was going well.

Herr Struve wrote to Gen. von Ludendorff, urging more U-boats, von Capelle added. Ludendorff replied in this matter that there was unanimity in this opinion in upper army circles. In the admiralty and among the general staff.

Herr Gothein again interrupted asking

Her confidence in RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, is firmly established.

MRS. WILLIAM HEBERT

It is about eight years since I started taking RED PILLS and my confidence in same is firmly established, for it was due to their beneficial properties that I overcame my general weakness, pains, and poor blood, which the Doctors called Anæmia. I gradually grew less discouraged and was thus better able to attend to my various duties as mother of a large family. There is nothing in the world like RED PILLS for me, and I always have a stock of them on hand at my home for ready use.

RED PILLS are for women only. They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "France American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

Why U-boats could not have been built in a series of one type at one time and another type at a different time.

Von Capelle replied that towards the end of the war that was done but said the outset it was impossible because of pressure of repair work and lack of wharves and skilled labor.

Herr Sinsheimer attempted to elicit the exact purpose of the submarine campaign against England—whether it was the intention to crush England or merely to compel her to agree to a "usable peace."

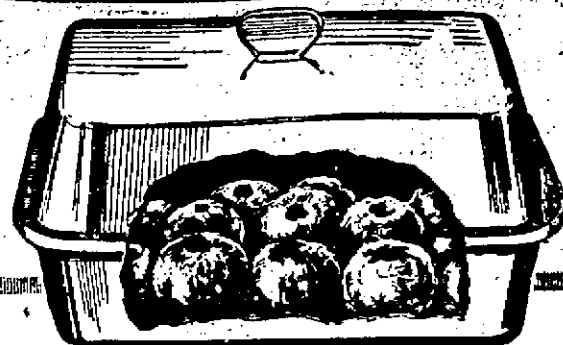

Von Capelle replied: "We believed we could force England to a 'usable peace' within five months."

"Was the submarine war planned to make feeding of England impossible and therefore making impossible the reaching by England of her goal?" asked Herr David.

"There was no hope in the navy that food or ammunition could be kept from England," replied von Capelle sarcastically. "We should have been more suspicious of England."

Herr David asked where the expres-

NEW LAW SOUGHT TO HOLD REDS

Special to The Sun

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The department of justice stated to The Sun correspondent that it expects to nip in the bud the attempt to spread anarchistic doctrines throughout New England and will deport the sixty persons back to Russia who were arrested last Saturday in Connecticut and who are now being tried before the Commission of Immigration at Hartford. In their search the officers found not only the red flag of the order bearing incendiary inscriptions but also captured the records in many of the cities where arrests were made. Members of the union of Russian workers, an organization classed as anarchistic by the department of justice were captured in New Haven, Hartford, New London, Waterbury, Bridgeport, Thomaston, Rockville, Seymour and Ansonia. Michael Prohodchuck, one of the men waived his rights and his case is already before the attorney general. It is expected by the department that the cases will be all cleared out of the way within ten days and that soon thereafter these men whom they recognize as dangerous leaders will be deported. A bill will be introduced in congress this week on the request of the department of justice and commissioner of Immigration to rescind the existing law which permits persons arrested on anarchistic charges to give bond and go free till they are convicted. In this way some of the leaders may escape and others spread much harm between the time of their arrest and their conviction. "We propose to run them out of the country under the law of 1918," said a high official today, "and we are urging a 'no bond' law be passed at this session." RICHARDS.

HEALTH TALK

The Kidneys and Uric Acid

All the blood in the body goes thru the kidneys within a few minutes. Therefore the kidneys are very important for health, because they filter out of the blood most of the waste (poisonous substance) and the blood then flows on toward the heart thru the kidney vein, and what the kidneys take out of the blood forms urine. So it is very important to have the water examined by a chemist at least once a year to test one's health.

I would suggest that everyone send a sample to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y., for a thorough chemical and microscopical test. This will be made free of charge and a report sent to you. The kidneys and bladder suffer from the wear and tear and we get chronic inflammations, sometimes indicated by backache, painful voiding of water, dull, heavy feelings. Perhaps the uric acid is stored up in the system in excessive amount, and, consequently, when the uric salts are deposited in muscles and joints one suffers from lumbago, rheumatic pains, gout, and this is the time to take "Auric."

SALE OF APPLE CIDER IS PERMISSIBLE

"The manufacture and sale of pure apple cider is permissible whether it is fermented or not, providing nothing has been added to increase its alcoholic content." This announcement was made by Acting Collector of Internal Revenue Andrew J. Casey, in response to many inquiries recently received by internal revenue officials about the use of cider for Thanksgiving.

"Under the prohibition act," said Mr. Casey, "no restriction or limitation is placed upon the manufacture, sale or use of cider. It is taxable upon the manufacture when sold in closed containers."

"Cider put upon the market and sold as wine is taxed as wine. It is not really wine and if it is not put up and sold as wine, it is not subject to the wine tax, regardless of the amount of alcohol it contains or of its intoxicating qualities. The only tax that applies then is that imposed upon soft drinks when sold by the manufacturer, producer or importer in bottles or other closed containers. Cider is not a vinous liquor within the meaning of the act of November 21, 1918, and it is not necessary for internal revenue officials to report instances of its sale or manufacture."

"Cider, whether sweet or hard, may be sold at the present time without regard to alcoholic content, but after the 18th amendment to the constitution becomes effective January 16, 1920, cider can be manufactured and sold commercially only when the alcoholic content is under one-half of one per cent."

"The addition of sugar or other fermentable substitutes for the purpose of increasing the alcoholic content is considered a violation of the law, but no restrictions or limitations are placed upon the manufacture and sale of pure cider by the war revenue act or the prohibition act."

FOR ENFORCEMENT OF WAR TIME DRY ACT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—John F. Kramer, an attorney of Mansfield, Ohio, has been appointed federal prohibition commissioner in direct charge of the enforcement of war-time constitutional prohibition.

Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, made public plans for enforcement of prohibition. Mr. Kramer will have as aides an executive field force of nine supervising federal prohibition agents and a prohibition director in each state. The supervising federal agents will have jurisdiction over nine territorial units into which the country has been divided.

Under the direction of the supervising agents will be a mobile force of federal agents which will be sent from one point to another as conditions warrant.

Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts are included in the northern district, the headquarters of which probably will be at Albany, N. Y., and Rhode Island and Connecticut in the New York district, with headquarters in New York city.

"The policy of the bureau of internal revenue will be to reinforce local efforts to the extent necessary to secure proper enforcement of the law," Mr. Roper said. "No state, county or municipal officer will be relieved of responsibility and every officer of the federal government of every state, county and city must be surcharged with the full responsibility of a prohibition enforcement officer."

"While the duty of ascertaining conditions in the several states will rest primarily upon the shoulders of the federal prohibition directors, the supervising agents, upon their initiative, will make independent investigations in ascertaining of violations of the prohibition laws, co-operating with the directors and local authorities. Directors will give particular attention to the manufacture and sale of denatured

Mr. Roper in his statement asked for the co-operation of all religious, social fraternal, labor and civic organizations in preventing the illegal sale of intoxicants.

LOWELL GUILD PLANS FOR HEALTH STATION

The monthly meeting of the council of the Lowell Guild was held Monday morning with a large attendance. The president, Mrs. Burke, presiding. Plans were discussed relative to the inauguration of the health station to be established by the Red Cross under the supervision of the guild. As a first step a conference is to be arranged to which all interested agencies are to be invited and at which there will be an address by Miss Elizabeth Ross of the nursing department of the Red Cross. The date for this conference will be announced later.

The Lowell Visiting Nurses' Association is a veritable field hospital. It furnishes skilled nursing care to the sick in their homes. During October the nurses employed gave nursing care to 155 patients in the home, making 801 nursing visits.

In addition to giving nursing care, the nurses teach the family how to care for the patient, the rules of sanitary living and the means of preventing contagion.

There were 14 baby hygiene conferences during October with 163 babies in attendance, the baby hygiene nurses making 521 home visits.

Break a Cold In Few Hours

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all stuffiness and distress—No quinine! Costs little!

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a cold and ends all gripe misery. The first dose opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages of head; stops Pape's nose running; relieves headache, dizziness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness, stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known. It costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Contains no quinine, laudanum, or other harmful drugs.

MENACE OF RADICALISM

Recent events have placed the ordinary labor union under suspicion of being the recruiting ground for socialists, syndicalists and anarchists. In past years, the labor union did splendid work in this country by securing redress of many grievances endured by the laboring people, such as long hours and unsanitary conditions.

It is well remembered when mill operatives had to work more than ten hours a day and when the working day in all the leading industries of the country was from ten to eleven hours. Even at that time the rate of wages was miserably low. Protests were made in vain until the labor unions brought relief by securing the enactment of remedial legislation.

As the result of the efforts of the unions, the 8-hour day now prevails very largely throughout the country and the rate of payment for overtime is at least 50 per cent higher than the rate paid for regular working hours.

We thus gladly give the labor union full credit for what it has done, but for some time past, the union has been infested with socialist agitators spreading their doctrines among capital and instilling into the minds of the members a bitter prejudice against their employers by representing the latter as living upon wealth dishonestly extorted from the working people.

The socialists were regarded as harmless until the revolutionary phases of the cult began to appear in the ranks of the I. W. W. whose principal weapon is the labor strike. Recently, and particularly since the end of the world war, this element has evidently been assiduously working through the labor unions, promoting strikes and demands for higher wages.

The revolutionary character of the I. W. W. was soon discovered in such labor conflicts as the strike in Lawrence, which brought professional agitators to stir the people to the point of rebellion. That they did not succeed was not their fault, but because they were met with the machinery of the law to suppress violent outbreaks and protect the public in person and property.

Thus discredited, the I. W. W. ceased to conduct meetings openly on its own account and instead its members entered the ranks of organized labor, there to disseminate their dangerous doctrines in secret, or at least without interference from the officers of the law. It was supposed that the unions held no such dangerous element and there was no suspicion that any of the members were trying to use the organization for unpatriotic purposes until recent developments of the I. W. W. plan to seize the factories and overthrow at one fell swoop capital and the wage system alike.

The fact that several hundred strikes have been in progress in this country for some months past without the sanction of the American Federation of Labor, to which the unions belong, proves that the local unions are under the control of radical elements which pursue the I. W. W. policy for the purpose of promoting a social revolution and if possible the overthrow of representative government. Part of their scheme is to keep on making new demands for higher wages and improved working conditions. When a point is reached at which their demands are so unjust that they cannot be met, then the I. W. W. plan is to seize the factories and overthrow at one fell swoop capital and the wage system alike.

That this movement has been really carried on through the labor unions is well known to the department of justice and in a measure it has been shown in the insubordination of local unions to national control.

Thus the labor union that served such an admirable purpose in years gone by is now to a very great extent being made the cloak for socialistic plotting and strikes whose chief aim is to make trouble for the government with a view toward its final overthrow.

Nothing short of real danger and Bolshevik tendencies could have aroused the department of justice to its recent activities in running down the dangerous characters who have been operating under various disguises in different parts of the country. When such a man as Z. W. Foster heads the steel strike and other men of similar tendencies become active in the miners' strike, there is certainly good reason to assume that the radical elements are working from the inside of the labor unions to affect their malign purposes in precipitating a social revolution in this country. Some of the speeches made at labor conventions have betrayed this spirit in claiming that capital should be overthrown, and that labor should get the full value of its product, regardless of the expenditures necessary for the manufacturing plant and the machinery by which the product has been made possible.

We regret this abuse of labor unions and the diversion from their original purpose, although we still believe that 90 per cent of organized labor is strictly patriotic and strictly American. But skilled agitators, continuously working among unsuspecting members, can readily succeed in leading many of them astray.

Against these radical elements it is the duty of every honest American, every church, every newspaper, every magazine, every political leader and every legislator to stand firmly in order that our constitution may be defended and vindicated and that these dangerous agitators may be driven from our shores, back to the countries whence they came, there to practice whatever doctrines they please so far as we are concerned. This responsibility comes down to every individual citizen who prides himself upon being an American, who appreciates the priceless boon of liberty enjoyed under the American flag and who believes as every American should believe, that in this republic we enjoy the best type of human freedom ever vouchsafed to man and that as true Americans, we must ever stand ready to defend it, if necessary, with our lives.

THE I. W. W. CHALLENGE

If the government had not already started upon a vigorous campaign to round up the Reds and other disloyal elements now actively engaged in plotting treason, the occurrence at Centralia, Wash., when a parade of service men was fired upon by I. W. W. snipers with fatal results, would assuredly move it to action.

Fortunately, the government is fully alive to the situation and is taking active measures to banish from the country every radical agitator found to be engaged in seditious or treasonable movements. The I. W. W. which for years pursued its treasonable work under the mantle of organized labor, appears in its true colors in firing upon a parade of service men celebrating the victory over Germany and the cessation of hostilities in the world war.

That unprovoked outrage by a body whose aim is to overthrow the government of this republic will arouse the patriotic citizens throughout the land, and will justify the government in adopting the most rigorous course for the suppression of this organization and the punishment or deportation of such of its members as can be located and convicted.

Especially will the service men who have been thus attacked, be stirred by this wanton challenge to their honor and patriotism. That deed will eventually be atoned for in the blood of these revolutionists; but legal processes alone will be invoked to stamp out the enemies of our constitution and our flag.

The American Legion, one million members strong, will take due notice of this attempt to precipitate a rebellion, and they can be relied upon in all emergencies to defend the nation's honor against the machinations of the socialists, syndicalists, and the avowed anarchists.

Strange as it may appear, these various enemies of organized society have established headquarters in our large cities and are spreading their literature throughout the length and breadth of the land. It will require a considerable time to bring them all under the restraint of law, but that must be done even if it is necessary to provide a prison colony for themselves.

The department of justice is doing splendid work in running down these enemies of our government. It may be necessary in the near future to adopt more summary punishment than has yet been proposed. Executions should follow conviction where the culprits are to the manor born, and as for the foreigners, they should consider themselves lucky to escape under a sentence of deportation.

There should be a provision of law providing extreme penalties for those deported if they again make their way back to this nation. It is easy for such characters to enter across the Mexican or Canadian borders if the bars are raised at the ports.

The department of justice is taking precautions against the escape of the more dangerous leaders arrested by asking congress for a law authorizing the courts to hold such prisoners without granting them liberty under bonds of any amount. With some of the revolutionary plotters, the ordinary bonds required by law are not sufficient to hold them, so that the department of justice is taking this step to overcome the effect of funds supposed to come from Trotsky, Lenin and other sources.

This is a time when those who are loyal to the flag will have to exercise vigilance in guarding against any propaganda of an unpatriotic or un-American character and it was never so ubiquitous as at the present hour. Genuinely taught the world the efficacy of propaganda in misleading the unwary, and her methods are now being used against this republic by fully half a dozen revolutionary organizations made up of men who followed their anarchistic conspiracies in Europe before coming here.

Added to this is the propaganda of a nation supposedly friendly for the purpose of boosting her own prestige at the expense of real Americanism. This so-called appeal to our friendship, deceitful as it is, must be classed with the other forms of propaganda that menace our government. We are not ready to change our government nor to blend our flag with that of any other nation merely to extol her greatness at the expense of our own.

This is a time when every true American must stand up for his government, his flag and the perpetuity of American institutions.

STREET CARS AND JITNEYS

The action of the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. in curtailing the service in cities that have been favorable to the jitney is liable to precipitate a lively controversy between the railway interests and the people who have been engaged in the jitney business.

The jitney has its uses in certain emergencies as we already know from experience here in Lowell, but for the purpose of general passenger traffic where there is a car line, it is not wise policy to have both run in competition. In the first place jitneys are not so reliable; and in case of accident, the owners are not so responsible as the railway company.

It appears that the trustees of the road are penalizing cities that have offered facilities for the business of the jitneys. There is some justification for this course inasmuch as the jitneys usually run on the most popular lines of travel and in emergencies, such as circus days and on days of public demonstration, they reap a rich harvest that otherwise would go into the coffers of the railroad.

The solution of this controversy may be a revision of the jitney business in the cities affected, so that the jitneys will not operate in competition with the railway. It should be satisfactory to jitney owners to have permission to run on routes that have no other mode of conveyance and that will not affect the patronage of the car lines.

Those four ex-service men killed at Centralia will not soon be forgotten. Their deaths will not be fully atoned until every I. W. W. in this land is either driven out or shot. They have no right to exist in this country as their sole aim is treason—the overthrow of our government.

It is not yet too late to join the Red Cross organization. Let not the opportunity pass to show appreciation for what this relief agency has done in the war. Do not fail to support it in its splendid work in time of peace.

Fast driving is far too common on the public streets. It results in death to children and other less serious accidents. Better stop it.

It is gratifying to know that the shoe strike has been declared off. It has been a serious loss to all concerned.

Hot Time in Blountville

They had a good, old-fashioned revival service in Blountville, Ind., recently, and nearly everybody in the town was converted.

But that wasn't what caused so much trouble.

When some of the old sinners became saints they confessed their misdeeds.

Blountville never knew how wicked it had been until those men spoke up in meeting.

And the audience got an earful!

One sinner said he had poisoned a aunt.

Another had burned his house to collect insurance.

Another had stolen a hog.

And they learned who it was that took $4.35 worth of stamps from the postoffice in 1882.

The meeting broke up in a riot when one man confessed he had killed another's wife four years ago at a picnic, and her husband started after him.

Anti-Pet Campaign

Since all these high class health experts and doctors started their anti-pet campaigns the work of snuffing out the nine lives of the family kitten has received a new impetus.

Cats, healthiest, carry disease germs. They are nuisances, the cats, not the health officials. So, by the way, are pet dogs.

If you believe the doctors, don't under any circumstances park a pet cat or dog in the home. If you must have a pet (ask any doctor) keep it out in the garage and never touch it, thereby letting the pet keep its own germs to itself.

That's all very well for health officers to say.

J. I. Minsoner, Galena, Kan., has a family pet cat.

It's an educated cat.

"That cat," says Minsoner, "has more sense than two dogs."

The cat doesn't confine its activities to putting mice. Its best day's record is the hunting line is six squirrels and three rabbits.

In the fishing season the cat fishes. It dives into the water, grabs a nice fish, and comes to shore. Repeats the process until its master picks up the string and starts home.

In the fall and winter this remarkable cat leaves home early, trails a rabbit or two, maybe a squirrel, too, and is home with the family's meal by dinner.

(And—)

Anthony Bridwell of Childress, Tex., has a cat that'll wake up the family every morning at six o'clock, thus making it unnecessary for Mr. Bridwell to think to wind up the alarm clock the evening before.

(Which will be about enough for cats.)

And Honor is sometimes soft-footed.

Why is it real life is so constantly tricked?

And why is it narrow and mean?

And why is life's hero so frequently licked?

When he never is licked—on the screen?

For oh, in the movies, the hero hits hard.

Although he is dapper, or scrawny, and the villain emerges all battered and scarred.

No matter how badly and bravely. And it makes one so sure of the triumph of right.

And the hero is always serene.

For he knows any time that he enters a fight.

He can never be whipped—on the screen.

Sometimes, it is true, he is badly betrayed.

And is downed by a dozen or more. But we find that his victory's only delayed.

And he very soon even the score. And he dusts off his gloves with a nonchalant air.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

American Legion Means Helpfulness and Service to Nation

BY ERIC FISHER WOOD,
Secretary of the American Legion
"We have stood together; let's stick together."
No other phrase perhaps could better
express the spirit behind the American Legion. The legion is the civilian organization of the five million men

and women who represented democracy militant in the uniform of the United States in the world war.
Why should these millions "stick together" now?

Why should every American veteran of the greatest conflict in the history of the world join his comrades in the American Legion, the national organization of his brothers-in-arms who

OLD MEN AND OLD WOMEN ARE MAKING GOOD

Hundreds of men and women well along in years have taken a most remarkable new lease on life; are up and doing more than their share of work and enjoying it, not asking
favors of anyone.

There is no secret about this.
Every man and woman past the prime of life can come back strong,
look young, and feel young, in a short time, if they will just follow
the laws of nature.

Old people THINK they are worn out because of age, and they feel that way. This is all wrong. One of our leading doctors says that looking and feeling old is due to lack of iron and phosphates in the blood and nerves. When people are young, they have a good supply. As they grow older and draw on this reserve, they commence to run down
unless they are wise enough to recharge their blood and nerves with Phosphated Iron.

Continuing, the doctor said, "Every man and woman along in years can be made strong, keen, healthy, and alert, enjoying life's pleasures again
if they will simply renew their blood
with Iron and Phosphates.

Phosphated Iron makes new, red
blood, strengthens the nerves, rebuilds energy, renews endurance and often increases the strength of weak
or old people one hundred per cent in 2 weeks' time. Thousands of rundown old people who were ailing all
the while have surprised their friends with a most astonishing return of health, strength and vitality
simply by taking Phosphated Iron.

have returned again to civilian life?

To those who have had the privilege to know the doughboy and his comrades in the other arms of the service in this war, it is almost sufficient answer to point to the fact that one million of them already have done so.

The purposes for which the American Legion was founded, which will continue to guide its destinies, are stated in the following preamble to the constitution adopted at the St. Louis convention last May:

"For God and country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes:

"To uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the great war; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine.
They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger

THE MERRIMACK RIVER DEVELOPMENT PLAN

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Nov. 13.—
With the approach of the time when heads of the 20 departments consolidating all the state boards are to be chosen persons interested in the development of the Merrimack river are keeping a close watch on the appointment to the chairmanship of the new public works department.

will depend whether the efforts to deepen the river so that it will be navigable from the sea to Lowell will finally be crowned with success, as it is in this department that the fate of the waterway will virtually be decided.

The public works department, under
the consolidation arrangement, will consist of the present commission of waterways and public lands and the highway commission. John N. Cole, Amherst, is chairman of the former, and Col. William D. Sailer of Beverly leads the latter. Both it is understood, are candidates for the leadership of the new department, as is also Everett E.
Stone, a noted engineer, who is now member of the public service commission.

A fragment of the skull of a man murdered nearly a decade ago; wicked looking daggers, sharp and business-like in appearance; revolvers of many and varied sizes and types—these and many other strange and weird tools best known to the underworld make up the contents of a walnut case of relics which has been presented to the Lowell police department by Simon B. Harris, whose years of service in the police department of city and state number 40.

Mr. Harris, who is now president of the Lowell Fish and Game association and who served from 1875 to 1883 as inspector in the Lowell department, in addition to other police service throughout the state from 1881 until 1911, gathered the greater part of his collection while a member of the local force.

BILLERICA POST

American Legion Holds Armistice Day Celebration

BillERICA Post 16, American Legion celebrated the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice with a Grand Victory ball held Tuesday night in the town hall, in BillERICA Centre. It was the first public social event conducted by the service men of the town, and proved a grand success as well as an appropriate program for the closing of a year of peace.

The affair was attended by over 200 couples including many service men who were year ago were serving in foreign countries or in camps nearer home. Patriotic organizations of the town also co-operated toward the success of the legion's initial entertainment and aided in making it one long to be remembered by all present.

The hall was handsomely decorated. American and allied flags were conspicuous, while streamers of red, white and blue bunting were extended from the center to all sides of the hall. The town service flag containing 237 stars was also used. Mrs. Frederic S. Clark, Mrs. George Greenwood and Mrs. Thomas Callahan, who represented war work organizations, served as matrons.

From 8 to 9.30 a musical concert was given by Frederick's orchestra, which also played for a program of 16 numbers. The quality of the music was evident by the encores given the various numbers. Harry Moran, a well known local entertainer, assisted the orchestra by singing some of the latest song hits which were very favorably received.

Promptly at 9.30 the grand march started led by Thomas F. Sheridan, chairman of the board of selectmen, and Mrs. Sheridan. They were followed by Selectman Thomas T. Clark and Mrs. Clark and Selectman Laurence Greenwood and Miss Mildred Barber, officers of the legion and many other couples. The march proved one of the features of the event and brought rounds of applause from the spectators who filled the balcony. Many of the service men wore uniforms, giving the affair a military appearance. Following the march, Mr. Moran sang "I Know What It Is to Be Lonesome" as the opening number of what proved to be a most enjoyable dance program.

Shortly before intermission Miss Velma Mansfield of Burlington sang two numbers and was given a fine reception. From 9 to 11 refreshments were served in the lower hall under the direction of 10 ladies of the BillERICA Red Cross headed by Mrs. John E. Richardson, Mrs. Charles E. Williams and Mrs. Chesley Nickerson. The ladies worked diligently and provided a dainty luncheon which was thoroughly appreciated and much credit is due them for the handling of this part of the program.

The committee in charge consisted of Newell A. Ritchie, W. Harold Manning, William J. A. Lyons, Warren E. McGonigle, Charles A. Hanlett, assisted by all members of the legion. The officers of the legion are: Commander, Thomas Q. Nickerson; vice commander, John Dostwick; adjutant, J. Dana Richardson; finance officer, Albert S. Bull; historian, A. Warren Stearns.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying, throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your drugist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Tips on Fresh Air in Daily Health Column

Today's health column conducted by the United States public health service under the direction of Surgeon-General Rupert Blue has the following relative to the value of fresh air:

Although physicians have long known the enormous value of fresh air in maintaining health, the surpassing importance of fresh air is still not realized by the large majority of the people. It is rare to find the air of offices and workshops as fresh as it should be; and this is sometimes the case when the rooms are not overcrowded as measured by accepted standards.

The evil effects of insufficient fresh air are strikingly seen when large assemblages of people gather in a poorly ventilated hall, and as the symptoms are so familiar to everyone, we need not dwell on them. The ill effects are much less striking when sedentary workers spend day after day in a poorly ventilated office or shop, but they are not a bit less certain.

Former Consul General of Honduras Shot to Death—
Wife Dying in Hospital
Bullet Lodged in Brain
Makes Woman Blind—
Believe Robbery Motive

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—Although friends of the couple have suggested political issues as the possible cause, the police today were working on the theory that robbery was the motive for the murder of Dr. Leopoldo Cordova, Jr., former consul general of Honduras, and the attempted murder of his wife who is near death and blind in a local hospital from a bullet in her brain.

The murder occurred Tuesday night. According to Mrs. Cordova, who was scheduled to sail for Central America yesterday, the automobile in which they had been riding stopped in the outskirts. Dr. Cordova alighted and was looking at the hood when struck on the head and shot by a man. Mrs. Cordova also was struck on the head and remembered nothing more until she regained consciousness.

During the fight she and the body of her husband remained in a ditch where they had been thrown. Her screams attracted the attention of a passer-by shortly after daybreak.

Cash to the amount of $140 and jewelry valued at more than $750, was said to have been taken. The rings were stripped from Mrs. Cordova's fingers.

Dr. Cordova, 26 years old, was the son of former minister of finance of Honduras, who was recently mentioned for president. Dr. Cordova was appointed consul to Mobile by Francisco Bertrand, former president, who was overthrown recently by the Gutierrez revolution. He was made consul general at New Orleans, which place he held until recently.

A NEW KIND OF "KICK"

This Proves Barnum's Assertion That There's One Born Every Minute

It was Tom Moore who said: "This world is all a fleeting show, for man's illusion given. Deceitful shine, deceitful flow. There's nothing true but heaven."

Whether the people up through certain New Hampshire towns ever read the line of the Irish bard is not known, but no doubt they would subscribe to them. They know the smiles of joy, also the tears of woe. They know, ah! too well, how they deceitful shine and deceitful flow. And probably they believe there's nothing true but heaven.

There has been a bull market in booze for these many months, particularly since July 1, 1919. A man who would corner all the whiskey available in America could make Old Dutch, Joe Letter and other past or present operators in the grain market or Sullivan, Lytle, Seales, Livermore and other cotton kings or ex-kings look small.

When that city chap circulated through the towns in question a few weeks ago, approached the unsuspecting tillers of the toll, gave them a drink from a suspicious bottle of looking, the contents of which they pronounced exceedingly good and then proceeded to take their orders at $5 a quart and shipped them bottles of pure water by express. It seemed that the very height of heaviness had been reached and that "This world is all a fleeting show, for man's illusion given."

But the wraith of laurel now passes to the brows of two unknown gentlemen, who a few nights ago pulled across one of the smoothest pieces of artful deception yet to come into public notice. It happened just above Lowell, too, on the boulevard which leads to Nashua through "Yngsboro."

The pair evidently conceived a brilliant scheme which worked out as they had plotted. Placing themselves in an unpopulated spot along the road they went about their work like good Samaritans. As automobiles came along they stopped them and in undertones asked the following:

"Have you got any liquor aboard?"

"Why?" came back the resentful question.

"Well, we just wanted to tip you off that's all, but if you are going to get sore about it, go ahead."

That was just right, for the interested query then came: "What d'ye mean, tipping us off?"

"We just heard that there are a couple of fly cops up the road almost at the Nashua city line, who are snuffing around for some of the old stuff. If they find it—well, you know what happens in such cases."

"A couple of liquor hounds, eh? Is that so; what do you think we had better do?"

"Live right over here," said one of the two, "and if you want me to I'll look after it for you and you can call for it on the way back, but if you want to take a chance perhaps you can get by the bulls all safe."

"And you just as soon keep it for us?"

"Sure, I'll keep it for a little while, only I don't want to have it around the house very long, or I might get yanked myself."

The packages were passed from tonneau to four waiting hands and with hurried manifestations of appreciation the machine sped along. As they passed around the neighboring curve one might have heard the occupants say to one another: "Those fellows are all right; they have done us a good turn."

"Done" is right; well done.

How many times during an hour the same performance was staged we have not learned. Later in the evening the Packards, Dodges, Fords and Buicks came wheeling back.

Mr. P. T. Barnum, you were right; and one a minute is putting it low.

Attempt To Kill Clemenceau's Secretary

BORDEAUX, Nov. 13.—An attempt was made early today to assassinate Georges Mandel, premier Clemenceau's chief confidential secretary, who is a candidate on the nationalist ticket for the department of Gironde.

At 2 o'clock this morning, as M. Mandel was entering his automobile at the conclusion of a public meeting, his car was surrounded and he and his friends were assaulted with canes and sticks. A revolver shot was fired at M. Mandel, shattering the door of the automobile. Mandel escaped unhurt. His chauffeur started the car at full speed to escape the crowd.

Belgian Royal Party Returns Home

carried yellow chrysanthemums. The best man was a brother of the bride, Mr. John S. O'Connor. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 35 Hudson street, where a wedding supper was served. Among the guests were relatives and friends from Lynn, Newton, Boston, New York and Chicago. The couple left later in the evening on a wedding trip to New York and Washington and after Dec. 15 they will be at home to their friends at 17 Ellsworth street.

CASE GOES TO JURY

The case of Christina M. Richardson, administratrix for the estate of William L. Crane vs. Thomas E. Carter, an action of tort, which went to trial at the civil session of the superior court yesterday, was brought to a close this afternoon and given to the jury shortly after 2 o'clock. The court then adjourned until tomorrow morning.

MAN MURDERED WIFE DYING

Former Consul General of Honduras Shot to Death—
Wife Dying in Hospital
Bullet Lodged in Brain
Makes Woman Blind—
Believe Robbery Motive

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—Although friends of the couple have suggested political issues as the possible cause, the police today were working on the theory that robbery was the motive for the murder of Dr. Leopoldo Cordova, Jr., former consul general of Honduras, and the attempted murder of his wife who is near death and blind in a local hospital from a bullet in her brain.

The murder occurred Tuesday night. According to Mrs. Cordova, who was scheduled to sail for Central America yesterday, the automobile in which they had been riding stopped in the outskirts. Dr. Cordova alighted and was looking at the hood when struck on the head and shot by a man. Mrs. Cordova also was struck on the head and remembered nothing more until she regained consciousness.

During the fight she and the body of her husband remained in a ditch where they had been thrown. Her screams attracted the attention of a passer-by shortly after daybreak.

Cash to the amount of $140 and jewelry valued at more than $750, was said to have been taken. The rings were stripped from Mrs. Cordova's fingers.

Dr. Cordova, 26 years old, was the son of former minister of finance of Honduras, who was recently mentioned for president. Dr. Cordova was appointed consul to Mobile by Francisco Bertrand, former president, who was overthrown recently by the Gutierrez revolution. He was made consul general at New Orleans, which place he held until recently.

PERMITS SALE

Judge Evans For Second Time Holds War Time Dry Act Unconstitutional

Sustains Attack on Constitutionality of Enforcement Act—Grants Injunction

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 13.—Judge
Walter Evans in the federal district court today in effect for the second time held wartime prohibition unconstitutional, sustained an attack on the constitutionality of the Volstead enforcement act and granted an injunction restraining Elwood Hamilton, collector of internal revenue for Kentucky, and District Attorney W. V.
Gregory from interfering with the sale by two Louisville distillers of their "floor stock" of tax-paid whiskey.

The government immediately took an appeal to the United States circuit court at Cincinnati and announced its intention of asking the higher court for a writ to supersede, which would have the effect of staying the injunction.

In the interval the way was open, it was said for Wright and Taylor and Brown and Forman, plaintiffs in the action to dispose of their floor stocks of whiskey without interference by the federal authorities in Kentucky. They were quoted as having said, however, they were undecided on the course to pursue in view of the fact that constitutionality of war-time prohibition had not yet been decided by the supreme court of the United States.

Whether the injunction issued today should be temporary or permanent should be left to Attorney General Palmer, whose office would best serve the purpose of the government. He also instructed the district attorney, it was announced to apply for a writ of supersedeas to stay operation of the temporary injunction which Judge Evans refused. In this emergency the district attorney appealed the case to the higher court.

FAIL TO INVOKE
CLOTURE RULE

Attempt by Democrats To Limit Debate on Reservations Blocked

Senate Adopts Motion by Sen. Lodge To Table Appeal From Ruling

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—An attempt by democratic senators to invoke the cloture rule, so as to limit debate on the foreign relations committee reservations to the peace treaty, failed today in the senate.

By a vote of 44 to 36, with all of the republicans present and Senators Reed, Missouri and Shields, Tennessee, democrats, voting in the affirmative,
the senate adopted a motion by Republican Leader Lodge to table an appeal from a ruling that the democratic move was out of order.

The democratic petition for cloture had been held out of order by the chair, because it sought to limit debate only on the reservations and not on the whole treaty. It was for this reason, Senator Lodge said, that the republicans opposed the move.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota, prominent among the "mild reserva-tionists" on the republican side, announced that in a very short time a cloture rule covering the entire treaty would be presented.

The senate voted down, 65 to 4, the proposal by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, to amplify the reservation to article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, so that other nations would be under no obligation to aid the United States in preserving its territorial integrity. Those voting for the proposal were: Walsh, Montana, and Pittman, Nevada, democrats, and La Follette, Wis., and Norris, Neb., republicans.

Signers of the cloture petition were:
Senators Hitchcock, Pittman, Nugent, Walsh (Mont.), Owen, Thomas, Williams, Henderson, Swanson, McKellar, Smith (South Carolina), Randall, Gay, Jones, (New Mexico), Wolcott, Johnson (South Dakota), Underwood, Dial, Kendrick, Kirby, Gerry and Sheppard.
Senator Fletcher of Florida, later added his name to it.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Two petitions to invoke the senate cloture rule to throttle unlimited debate on the peace treaty, which administration senators say has assumed the aspect of a filibuster, were prepared today for submission to the senate, should it become necessary. The move to invoke the cloture rule came after two days had been consumed in speech-making without action on the second foreign relations committee reservation dealing with Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, which technically was before the senate for action.

The first petition for the cloture was circulated by the democratic leaders and they were followed by the mild reservationist group of the republicans which resulted in the preparation of two petitions. As a further aid toward forcing action on the reservations, night sessions of the senate were agreed upon, starting tonight.

Under the cloture rule, no senator could speak more than one hour until a vote on ratification had been reached.
The cloture rule was adopted in March, 1917, after the armed neutrality bill had been killed in the closing hours of the previous session by a filibuster, which provoked President Wilson to refer in a speech to the "little group of wilful men" blocking senate action. The rule has never been invoked. A petition was started to enforce the cloture but before it reached a vote the opposition collapsed.

HARVARD CLUBS TO HOLD MEETING HERE

The New England Federation of Harvard clubs has accepted the invitation of the Lowell Harvard club to hold its annual meeting in this city and the date of November 20 has been fixed. At that time approximately 300 men will come to attend the business session, including President Lowell of the university.

An elaborate program of hospitality will be arranged by a local committee and everything possible will be done for the entertainment of the guests.
Golf and other sports will be available at the Vesper Country club.

Among the Lowell club men who are arranging the affairs of the meeting are: Rev. A. R. Hussey, Herbert W.
Horne, Joseph A. Nesmith, Walter
Clarkson, Allan M. Dumas, Earle R.
Kimball and Larkin T. Trull.

More Men and Women
Qualified To Vote Than Ever Before

More men and women will be qualified to vote at the city primaries to be held here next Tuesday than ever before in the history of the city, City Clerk Stephen Flynn announced today after the registration figures of the past few days and the names already on the check list had been tabulated.
No less than 23,555 Lowell voters will be entitled to go to the polls on Tuesday.

Of this number, 17,696 will be males and 6350 females. Some five years ago there was a larger registration of women entitled to vote for the school committee candidates, but never before.

Guardsmen's Work in Bos-

Feel That Surroundings
Should Offer Every Com-

A better realization of the disagreeable side of the routine life of a policeman, a feeling that he should be afforded the best possible quarters and every consideration of comfort, a knowledge that it takes many months of preparation to make a good policeman and a general agreement that they themselves would not relish the life were a few of the thoughts Lowell state guardsmen have brought home after a tedious tour of patrol duty in Boston.

The men interviewed are reticent concerning their personal experiences, at least for publication, but they are willing to express their attitude toward police work in general as it was brought home to them by actual work in the harness.

In the ranks of the Massachusetts state guard good policemen have many staunch friends and supporters.
Throughout the guard there was evidence of a fine attitude toward the Boston police. Many high grade men were personally met and admired Lowell guardsmen, almost to a man, felt that policemen should be well paid, given every consideration and then held to a strict account.

As to their station houses, Lowell men found these quarters—and they themselves occupied them—somewhat of a discredit to the city of Boston.
They were not comfortable, they were not modern, they were not as clean as they might have been. Some of the houses were not in such condition as to allow them to be kept clean, their very structures were a barrier. The local guardsmen, or at least as one of them has expressed it, feel that too field's advice will be sought as to how much, if any, wage increase granted should be passed on to the consumer.

The scope of the coming conference, officials said, will be broader than the negotiation of a new wage scale, and the interest of the public in the future prices of coal will be taken into consideration.

More than 200 operators and about 100 representatives of the miners are expected to arrive tonight and tomorrow.

GOVT. CANDIDATES HEATEN

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 13.—Opposition candidates defeated those of the government ticket at the recent parliamentary elections. It was definitely established today. With four districts still to be heard from, the opposition has 20 seats in the new parliament and the government has 12.

ATTACKS U. S.
TREATY DELAY

France Chief Sufferer From Failure of United States
To Ratify Peace Treaty

Paris Paper Says U. S.
Senate Fails To Consider
Other Nations

PARIS, Nov. 13.—France is described as the chief sufferer from the failure of the United States, so far to ratify the German peace treaty, in an editorial by Alfred Capus, editor-in-chief of the Elgare, published last night in the combined journal of the Paris newspapers La Presse de Paris. The editorial, which is headed, "To the American Senate" asserts that France is directly interested in having the treaty ratified and put into effect immediately after the election so that France may be enabled to buy raw materials at better prices than at present. It says that the Americans seem to take no account of this and to view the treaty as a thing to be dealt with purely on terms of American policy, "without" concerning themselves with the serious manner in which delays over the treaty jeopardize our interests.

"But do they know," the editorial continues, "what concessions we ourselves have been obliged to make, and under what pressure, under what influence, avowed and visible, we made them? Was it not the authority of President Wilson that led us? Was he not their representative, their plenipotentiary?"

Disavow Pres. Wilson
"Today, for motives purely material, they disavow this high agent and, to reach him who spoke in their name they are going to punish us for our compliance, for we are the first victims of this disagreement, we who await, coal, leather, wheat and cotton —we who are buying at the rate of nine francs for the dollar.

"Is it not the turn of our friends of the United States to forget their preferences, or to sacrifice them to the common cause? This sacrifice is necessary to our economical rehabilitation, which concerns American interests as well as ours."

LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL

Decision of Supreme Court on Law of 1919 Relates to State Income Tax

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—The supreme court today decided that the law of 1919, which gives to the commissioner of taxes and his subordinates the right to assess and distribute the state income tax is constitutional. The present statute, the court says, is a departure from any tax law which has hitherto been announced in this commonwealth and seems to go almost to the verge of constitutional power.

"Inequalities in the effect of the operation of the statute appear to be no more than may be encountered in a rationally devised system of taxation," says the opinion written by Chief Justice Rugg.

necessary to join the society before inserting an advertisement in the papers, he said he was told.

Having assimilated this information, Kiroe subpoenaed the publisher of the papers. The publisher did not appear.

D'OLIER MADE HEAD OF AMERICAN LEGION

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—Franklin D. D'Oliver of Pennsylvania, former lieutenant-colonel in the Quartermaster Corps, A.E.F., was last night elected national commander of the American Legion. He won the honor by a vote of 366 to 291 over his nearest competitor, Hanford MacNider of Massachusetts City, Ia.

Colonel Edward L. Logan of Massachusetts was not entered as a candidate. The Bay State commander withdrew from the contest early yesterday afternoon after he, in a speech before the convention, cast aside all personal ambitions and chances for possible election, by attacking the "steam roller" methods of the convention and censuring the New York delegation, members of which, he said, had been circulating unpleasant reports about him throughout the convention hall.

Alden R. Chambers of Winthrop, elected fourth vice-commander, was the only New England man to obtain national elective office in the legion. Colonel John F. J. Herbert of Worcester was unanimously elected to the national executive committee from Massachusetts after a reconciliation act had been staged following another disagreement in the Bay State delegation.

FRANKLIN D'OLIER

The convention voted to increase the dues of every member $1 per annum, and it was in opposition to this measure that Colonel Logan threw aside all his aspirations to the national command.

The bonus question the convention referred back to congress, and so far as the amount of money which the service men should have paid them is concerned, the status is the same as when the preliminary caucus of the legion adjourned at St. Louis last May. The $1 per day for every day in service advocated by nearly one-half the convention, led by Massachusetts and Ohio, lost out by an extremely close vote. The legion went on record as "favoring" a bonus. What it is to be and how it is to be paid is to be determined by the national general court. The national convention of the legion just "passed the buck." It is claimed, and in the same close vote that defeated the naming of an amount of bonus declined to make a demand upon congress.

Opposition to the increase of dues in the legion cost the Bay State delegation dear, as it did Commander Logan and his aspirations for the highest office in the legion. The upset of the Logan candidacy came quickly and without warning and followed the South Boston man's attempt to have the legion retain its dues at the present figure instead of boosting them as has been done.

Again on the bonus question Massachusetts unfortunately opposed what proved to be the popular demand. Christopher J. Halligan of All-Borough Post stamped the convention with his plea for a stated bonus demand only to have the opposition sweep the victory from the measure by another narrow margin.

Logan knew that he was whipping himself when he jumped to the floor of the convention and fought to defeat the measure raising the dues of the legion. He had barely left the stage when recess was called, and he addressed the Bay State delegates. "This situation," he said, "has made it impossible for the Bay State to try to elect a candidate for national commander. It is unfortunate, but let's forget it. I may be to blame and you may be, because I was talking for you. But I tell you men that when the story of this convention is told we have more than a loss in our home state. I am going to battle that task and we are going to put Massachusetts over further than she has been already in this legion, and I need your help. An increase in dues means more than a little work in our state, and you know it."

Immediately after the delegation voted to support MacNider for national commander. When the votes were cast Colonel Herbert was the only Massachusetts delegate to vote for the Pennsylvania candidate. The vote was: Massachusetts, 61 for MacNider, 1 for D'Oliver, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire and Rhode Island all voted for D'Oliver, with Vermont voting solidly for MacNider. The other national officers elected are: First national vice-commander, Alton A. Tuckey (army), Nebraska. Second national vice-commander, James O'Brien (navy), California. Third vice-commander, Joyce P. Lewis (marines), Minnesota. Fourth vice-commander, Alden R. Chambers (navy), Winthrop, Mass. Fifth vice-commander, William B. Fallick (army), Oregon. The Rev. Father Francis P. Kelley of Bensenville, New York, defeated John W. Inzer of Alabama for national chaplain. According to the national constitution adopted the national secretary will be appointed by the national commander. Delegates who attended the first national convention of the American Legion, left for their homes today. The three days' session having been brought to a close late last night.

DID NOT REACH JURY

The case of the Suburban Land Co. vs. the town of Billerica, an action of contract in the sum of $2000, which was called at the civil session of the superior court of Suffolk county yesterday, was not allowed to go to the jury, this action being taken by Justice Morton, the presiding justice. The action was brought to recover money paid to the water department of the town, which the company claimed had overcharged them by imposing a higher rate than should have been charged. Judge Morton, after hearing counsel, decided that the town was justified in its action.

Buttermilk Creates Beauty Overnight

Delightful New Vanishing Cream Contains True Buttermilk Makes You Look Years Younger or Money Back.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dullest and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough skin snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or coarseness of the skin. There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it is just common ordinary Buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth. To prove this to your complete satisfaction obtain a small quantity of Howard's Buttermilk Cream from your druggist or any toilet goods counter on the money back if dissatisfied plan. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it. Adv. so little that any girl or woman can afford it.

DORCAS TEMPLE MEETING

Prior to the business meeting of Dorcas Temple, 13, Pythian Sisters, which was held last night, supper was served by P.C. Ada Myrick, assisted by Sister Etta Fullerton. During the business session initiation and inspection took place, the latter being done by D. G. C. Agnos Austin of Medford, who also delivered a brief but interesting address. Past Chief Ada Myrick was presented a bag by M. R. C. Cora Glidden and a social hour followed. It was announced that the nomination of officers will take place at the next meeting, which will be held Nov. 26.

Historical Sketch of Your Watch

How It's Made—The Minute Details.

TINY PARTS

Some of the smallest screws are so minute that the unaided eye can scarcely distinguish them from steel filings or specks of dirt. Under a powerful magnifying glass a perfect screw is revealed. The slit in the head is 1-500 of an inch wide and the threads 1-220 of an inch apart. It takes 305,000 of these screws to weigh a pound, which is worth more than $1500. The hairspring is a strip of the finest steel about 9 1/2 inches long and 1-100 of an inch wide and 27-10,000 of an inch thick. It is coiled into a PERFECT SPIRAL OF MATHEMATICAL ACCURACY. The size of the strip is gauged to the twenty-thousandth of an inch; but no measuring instrument has, as yet, been devised capable of finding enough gauging to determine beforehand, by the size of the strip, what the strength of the finished spring will be. A TWENTY-THOUSANDTH OF AN INCH DIFFERENCE in the thickness of the strip MAKES A DIFFERENCE OF SIX MINUTES PER HOUR in the running of a watch.

LIQUOR DEALERS ARE JUBILANT

Undecided, However, as to When They Can Place 4 Per Cent Beer on Sale

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 13.—Rhode Island liquor dealers were jubilant today over the preliminary injunction issued by United States District Judge Brown forbidding government officers from enforcing the provisions of the war-time prohibition act affecting the sale of beer.

They are, however, undecided as to when they can place 4 per cent beer on draught. A warning issued by Internal Revenue Collector George F. O'Shaunessy has been taken to mean that saloon-keepers who take advantage of the court's action and sell a stronger beverage than one-half of 1 per cent will become liable to prosecution later, should an upper court reverse Judge Brown's decision.

The Narragansett Brewing company, through whose petition yesterday's action was taken, was reported today as ready to deliver 4 per cent beer as soon as it is considered safe to do so. Company officials decline to reveal their plans, however, declaring that the decision "may and may not" result in a resumption of the distribution of 4 per cent beer.

Apply For Licenses

Long before the decision was made known yesterday, liquor dealers were lined up at police headquarters where application for new licenses were being received. In addition to the 204 applications filed Tuesday, 33 were filed yesterday. There were 311 licensed saloons previous to the closing by law.

The saloon men are applying for licenses under the old state law, permitting sales of intoxicating liquors, and also under the Sundry law, which allows the sale of beverages containing not over 4 per cent alcohol. The necessary advertising will begin today and before the new license year opens on December 1, it will be determined which license it will be possible for the board of police commissioners to issue.

Relief Obtained, Says Massachusetts Resident, After Treatment With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Anemic people are generally nervous for the reason that their blood is too weak in nourishment to convey strength to the delicate nervous system. The nerves receive their food entirely from the blood and nervous debility generally responds to a treatment that tones up the blood. The case of Mrs. Joseph Peete, of No. 567 Main street, Clinton, Mass., illustrates the effectiveness of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in nervous troubles.

"Several years ago I was operated on for appendicitis," says Mrs. Peete, "and it seemed impossible for me to regain my strength. I was told my blood supply was inadequate and that I had anemia. My complexion was sallow and I was without ambition. The most aggravating symptom was nervousness. I suffered from frequent headaches, my sleep was fitful and unrestful, unusual sounds upset me and my nerves were in such a state that it took me hours to get control of myself. I had frequent attacks of nervous indigestion, too.

"A friend asked me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, saying that she had received great benefit from the remedy. I procured a box and after several weeks' treatment have improved so much that I feel like a different person. I sleep well, eat heartily without any distressing after-effects, and seldom become nervous. I am now an enthusiastic endorser of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and shall never be without them again."

Your own druggist can supply you with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."—Adv.

regards the demand for the evacuation of Hungary by the Rumanians. The allied note was not completed today, but it will be put into shape very shortly and forwarded to Bucharest within two days.

The report received from Sir George Clerk, the allied commissioner to Budapest, was considered as showing that political conditions in Hungary were much improved and that there were indications of a coalition government being organized shortly in Budapest with which the peace conference could deal.

Another subject considered by the council was the elections recently held in Silesia. A note to Germany was framed advising it to disregard these elections. A note also was sent to Germany warning the Berlin government that the sale of German aviation material is a violation of the armistice and will not be tolerated.

The municipal elections in upper Silesia it has been shown by other dispatches went heavily in favor of the Poles, giving rise to expressions of hope in Polish quarters that the allies would regard them as showing the sentiment of the district and as obviating the necessity for a plebiscite to determine whether the region should go to Poland or remain German.

WARNS FRENCH GIRLS AGAINST MARRYING CHINESE LABORERS IN FRANCE

GREETINGS To the American Legion

BY GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING

The legion is destined to be of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which we fought and in spreading among our people the lessons learned in the war. I predict a most useful future for the legion.

BY NEWTON D. BAKER
Secretary of War

This organization is so distinctly a spontaneous outgrowth of the mind and heart of the men who have been in the service that it neither desires nor would be benefited by an official relationship to the War Department, but the War Department is interested in the soldier, and I, who have been permitted to maintain through these heroic years a close relationship to the great army, naturally have the kindest interest in everything that affects their welfare and the preservation of their great traditions. I am happy, therefore, to congratulate the legion upon the progress you have made and to wish to you the sort of success which will mean the membership of every soldier in your organization.

BY GENERAL PEYTON C. MARCH
Chief of Staff

The aims of the American Legion are of such a high character as to make certain its success and its real value to the country at large. The experience of the war cannot fail to have had a broadening effect upon every soldier who engaged in it, and the lessons of duty to country and of loyalty to the form of government represented by the United States have been thoroughly learned by the men of the American army. The American Legion aims to perpetuate the memories of a glorious page of our history, and its non-partisan character assures its long life and prosperity.

BY JOSEPHUS DANIELS,
Secretary of the Navy

The continued mobilization for patriotic purposes of the Americans who served their country in the grim days of war will make for the preservation of the principles for which they fought valiantly and victoriously; it would be a distinct loss if the unity of spirit and the comradeship for better things should not be crystallized in such organized forces as to make these chivalric crusaders as invincible for real Americanism in peace as their valour and cheerfulness made them invincible and glorious in war. My greetings and gratitude to these men who gave a new glory to the flag.

PRACTICAL COSTUME FOR ACTIVE HOUSEWORKER

OVERETTES LATEST FOR HOUSEKEEPERS

Overall's sister is (or are) here. They're "overettes." They go on in the same way, and they serve the same purpose—working clothes for the woman who does her own housework. They are comfortable and convenient.

If you have to climb a ladder, stand on a window sill, or otherwise exercise in a manner impossible or unbecoming in skirts, the overette comes in nicely.

They are made from the same materials as the housedress. From the neck to the waist an overette is just like any other dress. It becomes an overett after it passes the waist line. They have two legs like any other trousers, except that the legs are neatly gathered with elastic at the ankle. The trouser part is comfortably wide and may be worn long or fastened above the knee like bloomers.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

A Woman's Warning

Why will women continue to drag around in misery, suffering with the ailments peculiar to their sex, that drag them down to misery and despair, with backache, nervousness, the blues, derangements and irregularities, when there is a proved remedy for just such conditions?

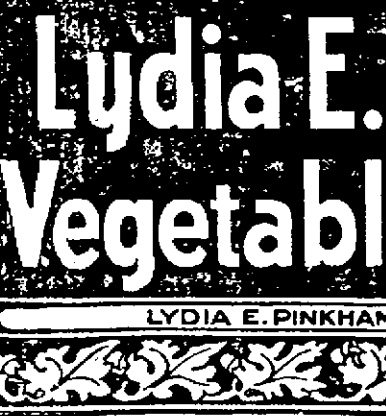

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming these ailments until it is now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

For Twenty Years the Friend of This Woman

Akron, Ohio.—"I am fifty-one years old and going through the Change of Life, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing me lots of good. I felt run-down and weak but since taking the Vegetable Compound I am much stronger and better. I can eat and sleep, am gaining flesh and can do more work than I have for some time. Twenty years ago your Vegetable Compound helped me during childbirth. I wish you would print this in your paper so that other women may read it. There is nothing better for the relief of suffering womanhood than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It does away with sickness and nervousness which is very often responsible for the lack of perfect harmony in the home."

ARE REDUCED

The following letter from the safety committee of the southern division of the Boston & Maine railroad is self-explanatory:

United States Railroad Administration
Boston & Maine Railroad
Concord, N. H., Nov. 10, 1919.

All Concerned:

The southern division safety committee of the Boston & Maine railroad gratefully acknowledges the hearty co-operation of all who helped to make the recent no-accident drive a success.

The enthusiasm of the railroad brotherhoods and other organizations, the work of the various committees, and the splendid spirit of co-operation manifested by the press, the clergy, chambers of commerce, the schools on this division, is highly commendable and deeply appreciated by railroad men, in whose behalf the humanitarian effort was made.

The comparison of improvement between the railroad accident country or between those of the eastern region is not yet compiled.

On the Boston & Maine system, including shops, the casualties to employees on duty were reduced from 74 to 39 or 47 per cent., compared with the same period of 1918.

On the southern division, including Concord and Billerica shops, the reduction in personal injury accidents was 62 1/2 per cent.

Concord shop improved 83 per cent. and Billerica shop 71 per cent.

While the figures indicate the reduction in the number of accidents to employees during the no-accident drive, the beneficial results of the campaign of safety, in the lessons taught cannot be measured in figures.

Safety Committee, Southern Division,
Boston & Maine Railroad.

W. R. MOONEY,
Chairman.
CHAS. L. MASON,
Secretary.

SUNDAY PICTURES

Discussed by Theatre Managers and Censorship Board

The local Theatrical Managers' association held a conference with members of the local censorship board yesterday at 4.30 p. m. in the mayor's reception room at city hall and the meeting developed into a get-together session in which Manager Walter J. Nelson of the Merrimack Square theatre, president of the association, pointed out how right a state censorship controls the showing of pictures here on Sundays. Unless a picture has been approved by the state board as fit for presentation on Sunday it cannot be shown here, he said.

Another question discussed was the presence of children at the theatre entrances begging for pennies, presumably for the purpose of going to the theatre but in most cases to buy candy. It was realized that this will be difficult to stop owing to the juvenile laws and it was agreed that the only effective method would be to urge the public to stop giving money.

SERVICE IN THE
MEDICAL CORPS

Opportunity for service in the medical corps of the army is being offered to young men of Lowell. A well equipped ambulance has been stationed at Paige and Bridge streets for the past few days and will remain there during the balance of this week. The recruiting work is in charge of Private J. Snyder and Private John Gilmartin. Both men will be very glad to explain the many advantages gained through enlistment in the medical corps.

Service buttons for discharged men continue to be distributed once a week at the local regular army recruiting station in Merrimack street. Capt. I. H. Angell of Boston comes to Lowell tomorrow and will give out the buttons between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock. Men who are unable to go at that time may secure buttons by leaving discharge papers with Sergeant McLeod, in charge. Nearly 1000 buttons have been distributed so far.

U. S. SOLDIERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The bodies of 111 American soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice in the north Russian campaign returned home last night when the army transport Daraga, in sombre gray, poked its nose through the mists off Sandy Hook and silently entered the harbor.

No screeching whistles from blustering little tugboats; no blasts from mighty transatlantic liners; no cheers from shore and crowd-lined skyscrapers greeted these returning heroes. But the chairman of the mayor's committee of welcome, Rodman Wanamaker, who had led other welcomes—when living heroes were met with wild ovations—boarded the Daraga to receive the nation's dead when the vessel slipped into her flag-draped dock shortly after 10.30.

Acting under orders from Major General Shanks, officials refused to permit newspapermen on the pier, "until this morning" when the funeral service will be held.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION
OVER RHEUMATISM

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allergic Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of fruitless study, that no one was free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his "W. D. 202" remedy. He has been appointed agent for Allen in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit. Adv.

Miss Emily Skilton, Lowell's first policewoman, was one of the speakers at the annual conference of the Universalist churches of Merrimack Valley, held yesterday in Grace Universalist church. She took for her topic: "A Policewoman's Story," and gave an interesting and vivid recital of the conditions which confront a police worker in Lowell today.

Other speakers were Rev. Clarence W. Cowling of Malden, Rev. Harold Pickett and Rev. H. E. Benton, pastor of the church. Dinner was served by the women of the church under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Stott.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE:
"Petticoats" the Hymer comedy at the Keith theatre, this week, gives splendid entertainment, and large audiences are enjoying it daily. Grace Dunbar Nile, the leading lady of the company, does some specially good work. Mme. Adelaide Herrmann, illusionist, mystifies completely with "Noah's Ark," and her other work is good. A speedy talker on popular topics is Ben Bernie, and other acts on the bill are: Jack Lavier, Henry & Moore, Guiana & Margaria and Chapelle & Stimetie.

OPERA HOUSE:
Wonderful strong lines that ring with true patriotism, the kind that grip one and makes him think and ponder, punctuate John Meehan's latest play, "A Man in the Open," which is being produced by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. The story is a well connected, carefully conceived and interestingly carried out creation that deals a message which has but one meaning: You will surely get it if you attend one of the performances. Besides, there's a delightfully interesting romance attached that plays an important part in its progress and helps to make it one of the most entertaining offerings of the season. Mr. Meehan was the best part of his local career, while Hal Crane, the juvenile monarch, is a real find. The juvenile monarch, Charles Stevens, an old favorite here, is seen in congenial roles. Don't miss this excellent season. Seats, however, are scarce, and tickets are being snapped up. Get your tickets early. Tel. 261 and

THE STRAND:
"A Man in the Open," Dustin Farnum's latest production, which will be shown for the first time on The Strand here today, is universally pronounced to be by far the strongest screen vehicle thus far provided for the star. Farnum's stage artistry and his likable and virile personality have placed him in the forefront of present-day actors. The story of the picture play is a powerful romance of the big northwest and is closely based on the thrilling novel of the same name by Roger Poole, and as its name indicates, is staged largely in the great outdoors. Mr. Farnum will be seen in the role of sailor Jesse, wrecked on an ocean voyage, adopted into the comradeship of rugged landmen, and tricked into marriage by an adventuress. Then followed his startling adventures in the great forests and mountain where he lives as The Man in the Open, and where the startling denouement of the great story takes place. See it, for it's classed as one of Farnum's best.

The other big feature for the week-end is Gladys Brockwell, the William Fox star in a photoplay called "Chasing Rainbows," in which she portrays a working girl with a heart so big that, despite her troubles, it has plenty of room for troubles of others. And the weekly are also shown.

DELAY SALE OF 4 P. C. BEER IN PROVIDENCE
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 13.—Sales in this city will not be permitted to reopen immediately for the sale of 4 per cent beer, notwithstanding the granting yesterday of a preliminary injunction restraining federal officials from the enforcement of war-time prohibition.
Walter A. Presbrey, chairman of the board of police commissioners, announced this morning that in his opinion the action taken yesterday by Federal Judge Arthur L. Brown, did not affect the action of the police in closing the saloons when the prohibition enforcement act became effective on Oct. 25.
Saloon, cafe and hotel proprietors generally said that they were ready to reopen after a decree had been entered restraining officials from interfering with the manufacture and sale of non-intoxicants by the three local breweries to which the injunction was granted.
A draft decree of this nature was presented to Judge Brown this afternoon by Michael J. Lynch, counsel for the plaintiff breweries. Immediately after an approved decree should have been entered it was the intention of United States Attorney Harvey A. Baker to ask the court for a supersedeas to stay the enforcement of the injunction until an appeal might be heard by the United States circuit court of appeals in Boston.
BANK OF ENGLAND
LONDON, Nov. 13.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England remained unchanged at 6 per cent. today.

ILLINOIS COAL MINERS QUIT THEIR PORTS
DUQUOIN, Ill., Nov. 13.—Complying with an order issued by local union miners, following a mass meeting here of members of the United Mine Workers, all hoisting engineers, firemen, pumpmen, mine feeders and other union men who have been permitted to keep the mines in the 12th district in working order, left their posts last night.
The mine superintendents, managers, top foremen, assistant bosses and office clerks were immediately called upon to all the places of the men who had quit.
Whether this is a violation of the injunction granted the government by Federal Judge Anderson at Indianapolis was not generally known among either operators or miners, as the call was made at a mass meeting and not directly by officials of the Duquoin miners.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 13.—Reports received here by operators said union men left in two mines at Benton to care for company property under the terms of the strike order had deserted their posts today, following similar action at Duquoin. The walkout was said to be a protest against obedience of international officials to the federal court mandate to call off the strike.
12 LIVES LOST WHEN FRENCH BARK WAS RUN DOWN IN CHANNEL
DOVER, England, Nov. 13.—Twelve lives were lost when the French bark Colbert was run down in the English channel off Portland, by the British steamer Duneric. Two survivors have been landed here.

ANOTHER EX-SOLDIER IS FIRED UPON
CENTRALIA, Washn., Nov. 13.—Geo. Paxton, Centralia, former soldier, was fired upon before daybreak today as he was patrolling a road between Centralia and Chehalis, near the bridge where the alleged Industrial Worker of the World was lynched Tuesday night.
Police, national guardsmen and former soldiers searched vainly for several hours for the man who fired the shot. Paxton was not hit.
TRAIN WRECKED
FIREMAN KILLED
BERLIN, N. H., Nov. 13.—A local passenger train on the Whitefield and Jefferson branch of the Boston & Maine railroad, was derailed when it ran into a washout between here and Groveton this morning, killing Fireman Goodwin and injuring the engineer. The passengers were uninjured. One of the two engines on the train went over the bank, and the baggage and mail cars stuck in the washout.

Washington Entertains
try, returning to Washington for the prince's visit.
Hon. Archibald Bethune-Lindsey, heir to the earldom of Lindsey, is also here. His wife was Miss Ethel Tucker of Boston. Lady Granmore-Brown, wife of Lord Geoffrey Granmore, representative peer for Ireland, and the Duke of Sutherland are visiting in this country also. The latter is accompanied by the duchess, who is mistress of the household of Queen Mary and the leader of the younger set in London society.
The list of British visitors of high social rank is endless.
Holding Over
Then there is quite a large group of Brititshers who have been living in Washington for the period of the war and who have delayed their return to England until after the prince's visit. Most of them planned to return to their homes overseas early this fall but are staying until the end of November.
Mrs. James McDonald is among the English women socially active in Washington. She is going to open her London home this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Graham Glasgow are going back to old London town late in November. They have taken an active part in Washington society for several seasons now. Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell Graef are other Brititshers "holding over" here.

of England

LONDON, Nov.—(By Associated Press).—Observers of Great Britain's financial problems attach some significance to a suggestion made recently that the main burden of paying off the huge national debt created by the war should be laid upon the church of England and the church of Scotland, more particularly on the former. The proposal is that all their property, including Westminster Abbey should be sold and converted into cash for the relief of the debt afflicted country.

The attention attracted by the idea is due largely to its source, it being brought forward by the Statist, one of the widely read journals of finance and trade. The writer of this article asserts that the annual interest charge of £500,000,000 which he estimates that England is facing, will hang like a millstone around the nation's neck unless got rid of. Hence the necessity of making a big hole in the debt "by one large sacrifice," with those who have the most money contributing the most in the emergency.

"There is no reason," argues the writer, "why the church of England should be supported by the whole population. It is not believed in by the whole population and therefore it has lost all right to exact support from those who do not attend its services. What is wanted now is that the whole property of the church, without exception, should be used for the freeing of the country from debt."

"It has been suggested that very little could be got for Westminster Abbey. We differ entirely. We believe that a very large sum could be got for Westminster Abbey. The wise course would be to put the Abbey up at auction and allow every great church to bid for it."

SOCIAL AND DANCE

Members of Pilgrim, chapter, No. 54, Order of the Eastern Star, conducted a happy social and dance last evening at the Highland clubhouse. It was well along toward midnight before the party came to an end. Dr. Adam Shaw was in general charge, assisted by Alexander Semple, Jr., Mrs. Alice B. Long, Mrs. James B. Gourley, Mrs. Eva D. Lewis, Mrs. Marguerite Bennett, Lewis Carpenter, W. E. Sargent, David Harlow and Fernald Gould. The matrons were Mrs. W. E. Sargent, Mrs. Sarah Mooney, Mrs. Alexander Semple, Jr., Mrs. Alice B. Long and Mrs. Louisa Hale.

PUTTING UP STORM GUARDS

One of the perennial indications of the approach of winter came to the fore yesterday when employees of the public property department started putting up storm guards on various bridges throughout the city. The Central bridge is arrayed in its winter garb.

STRANGE CASE LITTLE CURED AFTER BEING GIVEN UP AS HOPELESS

LAWRENCE, May 24.—The strange case of Joseph Little of this city is causing no end of talk. Today he weighs 175 lbs., while in November his weight was 90. At that time Little's friends gave him up, believing him to be in the last stages of consumption.

For some months Little was an inmate of the Cottage hospital. While there Supt. James J. Stanley took an especial interest in this case. And a strange feature of the case is that a nurse of the hospital prepared and administered to him a concoction, now known as Sister Mary's Compound. With good care Little improved and in a few months was able to leave the hospital a "new man." Little entered the hospital suffering with a stomach trouble and a bad cough. Consumption was his disease, so it was thought. He was even sent to Colorado. Soon after he returned seemingly no better. However, he was taken by Supt. Stanley and given a berth at the local hospital. His nurse there well cared for him as Little's friends do not know him. He is so changed. The Lawrence institution has had many peculiar cases, but the transforming of Little, a helpless physical wreck, to Little a well and strong man, is the most remarkable in local medical history. (Extract from the Boston Record, March 24, 1906).

July 7, 1919.
502 Main St., Stoneham, Mass.
I received the bottle of Sister Mary's Compound and it helped me wonderfully. It checked that awful pain in my stomach and bowels. I am very much improved and back on the train. It surely was a God Send to get relief.

I am very truly yours,
C. A. FICKETT,
B. & M. R. R., Conductor.
Letters received from all parts of the country testify to the wonderful results received from Sister Mary's Compound. Copies of these will be sent on request.

LOWELL DEFEATED IN JOE LYNCH DEFEATS
OVERTIME GAME KID HERMAN

FALL RIVER, Nov. 12.—Lowell was defeated in a hard-fought overtime game here last night. The score was tied virtually all through the contest but after 14 minutes and 45 seconds of overtime play George Hart shot one into the cage from the sidelines and won for Fall River. The work of Vance Slater played first rush for Lowell in the place of Davies. The score:

POLO NOTES
The league officials are to meet Sunday and act on the Dufresne case.

Lawrence will play Lowell at the Crescent rink on Friday night. A record crowd is expected to turn out.

New Bedford smashed all attendance records on Tuesday night when 1000 turned out to see the game between the Whalers and the Fall River Tigers.

Young Davies, being laid up with boils, will be out of the game for some time. Slater, an experienced player, who has been in the league three seasons, has been secured to play first rush.

The action of Referee Carroll in Tuesday's game was the only course of action on Friday night, and he made many friends by his handling of the situation.

Referees are appointed to run the games and that on request of the rules of the game. If not headed properly ignore these rules and get away with it, well "good night" to the old game.

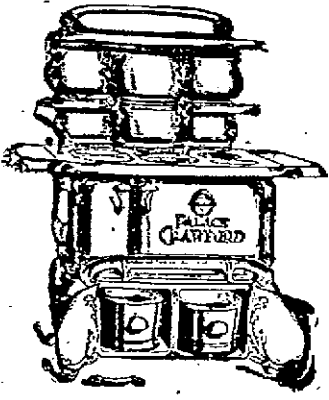

Dufresne is a good polo player, but as a leader, if his exhibition here on the holiday is a criterion, he's not there. A captain of a team should have some consideration for the ones who make the games possible, the ones who pay their good money to expect and demand a run for their money. If the fans should decide to remain away from the games, and such tactics as employed by this player will certainly produce the result, polo players will be forced to seek employment in other lines. It's like killing the goose that lays the golden egg, and again if a captain violates the rules, why can't other players do so? The leader should set a good example if there is to be any discipline in a game.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene A. Pullen, carpenter, 124 E. Marshall street, Mass. asquian, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.

JIMMY WILDE IN U. S.
FOR SEVERAL BOOTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The steamship Battle of the White Star line brought to these shores a young boxer who has been talked about almost as much in Great Britain as any of the leading generals of the war. Jimmy Wilde, who packs away in his 160 pounds of bone and muscle a mysterious force which enables him to knock out men scuffling 15 to 20 pounds more than he, has come on a trip of pleasure and profit to the United States. Back in England he is an idol because of his sensational doings in the ring and the Britons tried hard to prevail on him to remain in his native land. He said yesterday at the Imperial hotel, where he is quartered for the present, that he had always been keen to see the United States and wanted to avail himself of the opportunity while he was still a drawing card.

Wilde is only five feet, two inches tall, but he is broad of shoulder for his stature. In his street clothes he is a well put together man with a pleasing face which shows none of the traces of his profession with the exception of a slight scar across the bridge of his nose, which he received in his last bout with Pal Moore, the American bantam. In spite of the floundering which he has been subject to, he is not a bit "up-stage." He has a very alert mind and is well versed in the fact that he received his education in the hard work of a coal mine from the time he was 12 years old until he was 22.

The little Briton has three bouts in view before he boxes in this city, with probably either Pal Moore or Joe Lynch. His first appearance will be in Milwaukee either on Thanksgiving eve or Dec. 1 against Benny Vogel, a boy who is thought very well of in that city, or Young Marino. There is a tentative date for him at St. Paul on Dec. 15, and then the party will journey to California, where Wilde expects to be matched with some boy on the coast. He is due back here the first week in January, and has been invited to do his training on the country place of a member of the International Sporting club.

Wilde says he can easily do 100 pounds and weighed only 102 when he fought Pal Moore and 97½ when he fought Zulu Kid. He acquired his skill in the booths at the country fairs, where he took on all comers of his weight, sometimes meeting more than a dozen in a day. He has been in more than 300 fights, and Tancy Lee, now the British featherweight champion, lost to him and stepped him. That was in 1915. The following year Wilde knocked him out.

MAJORS AND MINORS
SIGN ARMISTICE

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 13.—Business relations between the minor and major baseball leagues, which were strained a year ago with the abrogation of the national agreement, will be resumed as a result of action in its annual meeting. According to Secretary John H. Farrell's report following an all day executive session the minors have decided it is best to work in harmony with the major leagues.

Among other things the new agreement would mean the establishment of the drafts and optional agreements of the minor leagues was made. The Class A clubs were given permission to increase their money by paying it to $3500 and other leagues were granted proportional increases. The request of Class A clubs for one more representative on the national board of arbitration was granted by the elevation of President Daniel O'Neil of the Eastern League from Class B to Class A, the rating which the Eastern League now has.

J. Cal. Ewing of Oakland, California, was elected vice president of the national association to succeed A. T. Baum of San Francisco, retired. The only other business of the day consisted of passing of resolutions and selection of committees, followed by a banquet last evening. No new awards were presented by the arbitration board yesterday afternoon or evening.

Annual Meeting Tomorrow

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 13.—With many of the more vital questions settled in yesterday's closed sessions, the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues set itself today to the task of clearing up a mass of minor matters. There was a possibility that the annual meeting might be held over into tomorrow. A distinct feeling of relief was manifested by the minor league leaders today at having put several of the larger problems behind them. This was particularly true as regards the vexed question of renewing relations with the major leagues. The situation had been highly unsatisfactory during the last year and in naming a committee to take up this matter the minors put themselves in a receptive position and left the next step up to the majors. This question of renewing a national agreement included the draft problem which as it had worked out in the last year the minors felt had been distinctly to their disadvantage.

BILLERICA BOWLING

LIFT BAN ON SUNDAY SPORTS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 13.—Denouncement of the removal of the ban on Sunday sports by Yale students has been given by the student council of the college, it was announced today. That week-ends may be more profitable for students who remain at their dormitories, it was recommended that squash courts, tennis courts, athletic fields and golf courses be open on Sunday for their use.

Give the world
the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money and a fine family, but—

He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling, "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you will ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Two Airmen Killed in Crash

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Lieut. R. M. Douglas of the Australian flying corps, and Lieut. J. S. L. Ross, his navigator, who started from Hounslow this morning for a flight to Australia, were killed shortly after they began their journey, when their airplane crashed near Sarbiton, in Surrey.

NC-4 Makes New Record

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Piloted by Lieut. Commander Read, the naval seaplane NC-4, which made the first Transatlantic flight, recently, established a new non-stop record for that type of craft when carrying 12 passengers, it flew from Pensacola, Fla., to Memphis, Tenn., a distance of 535 nautical miles, the secretary of the navy announced today.

Due to head winds, a speed of only 58 knots per hour was maintained. The total flying time was nine hours and 33 minutes, about 10 minutes less than the flying time made by the NC-4 on its flight from Punta Delgada to Lisbon in the Transatlantic trip.

RYAN MAKES DENIAL

Former Head of Aircraft
Production Answers Accu-
sations of Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Denial of accusations contained in a telegram sent to Secretary Baker by Representative Frear, Wisconsin, and Magee of New York, majority members of the house sub-committee investigating aircraft expenditures, was made today by John D. Ryan of New York, former second assistant secretary of war, who had charge of aircraft production during the war.

In a statement presented to the committee, Mr. Ryan said: "Such an intermingling of alleged facts is contained in the telegram that it is somewhat difficult to make specific answer to its contents. An examination of the message discloses that it is more by way of innuendo and insinuation, than by direct charges, that reflections of the gravest character, involving my personal integrity and official acts, are made."

The Frear-Magee telegram charged that a railroad from Lake Pleasant to Crescent lake in the state of Washington, cost the government $115,000 per mile and represented a total expenditure of $1,000,000.

"The expenditure referred to," the Ryan statement said, "covered not only the cost of the 30 miles of main line railroad, but also expenditures made in connection with terminal facilities, yards, sidetracks and appurtenances of every kind except rolling stock, which went into the construction of the railway and constituted a part thereof."

Replying to this, Mr. Ryan stated "it is probably the first time in history that a majority of a committee vested with judicial authority not only indulged in accusations which were unfounded, but endeavored to bolster public opinion in the impression that there had been a grave dereliction of duty, by engaging in prophecy."

Who is the champion dancer in Merittles and towns in the section claim the honor of having the little holder the logical champion has never been determined.

It is remained for enterprising Lowell men to hit upon the plan to conduct a contest to establish the champion. In arranging for the big contest it was necessary to establish headquarters in Lawrence, Haverhill and Lowell, and this has been done. In each city the dancers have been invited to send in their names and already a long list of entrants has been received.

The contest will run for four nights. There will be three preliminary or elimination contests, with the winners on these nights competing in the grand finale.

The first night of the contest will be Tuesday evening, November 18, and the others will be held on successive Tuesday nights. On each of the three nights three winners will be selected, these qualifying for the final.

There will be $200 in cash prizes, $10 to be awarded the winning couple on each of the first three nights, and the remainder of the prize to the winners, or champions on the final night, which will be December 9.

The contest will be staged at Associate hall, and Minor-Doyle's orchestra will furnish the music.

Storrie Pearl and partner of Lawrence, James Jones, and partner of Lowell and Dominick Monahan and partner of this city, were among the first to signify their intentions of competing. Others are sending in their names. The more the merrier. Entrants may send names to The Sun office, in care of W. Sullivan.

Silk was first made by Si Ling, wife of Hoang-Ti, emperor of China, in the year 2600 B.C.

TO DECIDE DANCING CHAMPIONSHIP

AND NOV. 27 IS NEAR!

THEY'VE MEDALS FROM ANNUNZIO FIUME.—Capt. Gabriel D'Annunzio, in control in Fiume now, is handing out gold medals. Two American women have been decorated by the fiery Italian poet. They are Mrs. Williams Boyes Thompson, wife of the president of the Roosevelt Memorial association (at the left), and Mrs. John Adams Drake, president of the American Free Milk and Relief for Italy, Inc. Both have done relief work for Italy since the beginning of the war.

IDENTIFY MAN LYNCHED BY MOB

Criminal Informations Against 20 Members of I.W.W. at Centralia, W.

CENTRALIA, Washn., Nov. 13.—The man who was lynched here Tuesday night after four members of the American Legion had been shot and killed during an Armistice day celebration was identified early today as Ernest Everetts, by a woman who conducted the rooming house where Everetts lived. He was working here as an I.W.W. organizer, the woman said.

This identification was partly borne out when the police went through effects found in the rooms occupied by the man. These included receipts for Industrial Workers of the World literature and blank receipts for membership dues in the I.W.W., according to the police. The body had been previously identified as that of "Brick" Smith, secretary of the local branch of the I.W.W.

Criminal information against 26 alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World, has been prepared for filing today with the county clerk. All information, it was understood, alleges either participation in or criminal knowledge of the killing of four members of the American Legion.

One Woman Among Prisoners
Of the 26 alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World in jail, one is a woman. She was manager of the lodging house from which the fatal shots are alleged to have been fired at the marching Legioners.

Further indication that federal prosecution awaited those accused of complicity in the shooting, was contained in a statement made by Robert L. Saunders, United States district attorney.

Charges Against All I.W.W. Members
"In my judgment, the I.W.W. have gone far enough with their acts to emphasize the truth that their principle is the overturning of the government, including the federal government," Saunders was quoted as saying. "If that is so, and can be established by the evidence, every individual I.W.W. is guilty of that crime."

"I shall place charges against every one of the men arrested. The complaint will be placed before the United States commissioner at Tacoma and I believe that my evidence will be conclusive enough to hold all of them for the federal grand jury."

The local post of the American Legion has made plans for a military funeral tomorrow of the four former service men killed during the parade.

Resolutions demanding drastic action by state and federal authorities against radical organizations have been adopted by American Legion posts and other organizations in many Pacific coast cities.

Through its commander, the Yakima, Washn., post sent telegrams to United States Senators Wesley Jones and Miles Poindexter, demanding that steps be taken immediately to "enact proper legislation to exterminate the Industrial Workers of the World and other radical organizations inimical to the government."

PRINCE OF WALES IS GREETED AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, last night attended the most formal event of his stay here, a reception to which all members of congress and their families had been invited to meet him. Members of the cabinet and a diplomatic corps also attended.

The halls of the library of congress were the scene of the gathering, and the prince received the American legislators in the midst of historic documents dealing with the separation of the American colonies from the empire over which he is destined to reign.

The prince went to the reception from the home of Sec. Lansing, where the secretary and Mrs. Lansing had entertained him at dinner.

Visits Wounded Men

The prince earlier in the day paid homage to American soldiers wounded in France when he inspected the Walter Reed Military Hospital and in a brief address hailed these men who have paid the price of liberty as "my comrades in arms."

A score of men wounded at Chateau-Thierry were drawn up in wheel chairs on the lawn of the hospital when the prince arrived. He turned at once to them and moving along the line, greeted each with words of sympathy and comradeship.

The prince also inspected the wards where the most seriously wounded men were lodged. He went from bedside to bedside and inquired as to the nature of each man's injuries and how he had been wounded.

The prince also was enrolled formally as a member of the American Red Cross during the day, paying a good American dollar for the honor during his visit to Red Cross headquarters. The badge of membership was pinned among the war decorations on his breast by Mrs. Farrand, wife of Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Red Cross central committee.

"May I in return present you with a dollar, which, I think, is the proper thing?" the prince said, as he received the badge.

The dollar he tendered and his autograph were placed beside those of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium in the society's museum.

The only other formal event of the prince's day was his inspection of the Lincoln Memorial, nearing completion beside the Potomac, but he added to his program in the afternoon, which had been left for him to dispose of as he saw fit, a call at the home of Mrs. George Dewey, widow of Admiral Dewey, the hero of Manila Bay.

WILSON AND LODGE PAY TRIBUTE TO MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The death of Senator Martin, the democratic leader, who passed away at Charlottesville, Va., yesterday was announced to the senate by his colleague Senator Swanson, and the senate as a mark of respect adjourned immediately after adopting resolutions providing for a committee of 13 senators to attend funeral services.

The following were appointed as the committee: Senators Swanson, Lodge, Cummins,

CUT THIS OUT

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh, Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climatic conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parnint. (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed nostrils, should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parnint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh and head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

President Wilson yesterday telegraphed Miss Lucy Day Martin, daughter of Senator Martin, his sympathy and grief at the death of her father, saying:

"May I not express my deep sympathy and sense of personal grief in the death of your distinguished father? I regarded him as one of my warmest friends and feel that Virginia and the country has sustained a real loss."

Senator Swanson, in his brief eulogy, said Senator Martin's death was "a sacrifice on the altar of public service," superinduced by heavy duties in the senate during the war. Senator Swanson paid high tribute to Senator Martin's character and service.

Republican Leader Lodge also declared Senator Martin had "worn himself out in public service."

"I have been in service with Senator Martin for more than a quarter of a century," said Mr. Lodge. "He was a high-minded, honorable man, who devoted all his strength and all his ability to the public service. At this moment I can only think of the personal loss that has come to me."

A conference of the democratic senators to elect a new leader will be called soon by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, vice chairman of the democratic conference. Senators Hitchcock, Simmons of North Carolina and Underwood of Alabama have been mentioned to succeed Senator Martin.

The house adjourned out of respect for Senator Martin, after a resolution by Representative Flood, democrat, Virginia, expressing the regret of the house was read.

CLEANED THE POISONS FROM HIS SYSTEM

A MASSACHUSETTS MAN GRATEFUL

Somerville, Mass. A well-liked citizen of this city, who has suffered in the past, writes the following to Dr. J. P. True & Co.:

"I have taken all kinds of laxatives, but none of it cleaned the poison from the system. About three years ago I began to use heretofore considering the effects it had on me, as I feel splendid now—all my system needed was a real cleaning which only your Elixir gave."

Dr. True's Elixir has relieved thousands of sufferers during the last 35 years. I prescribe a prescription actually lasting so long—doctors come and doctors go, but Dr. True's Elixir, The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, which was given the world by Dr. True, is as good the best friend to be found in your medicine closet.

SAYS AMERICANS ARE TO BE PROTECTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Sec. Lansing, in a statement yesterday designed to make clear the government's attitude on the question of responsibility of Mexico for the safety of Americans in that country, declared it was "the privilege as well as the right of this government by diplomatic intervention to see to it that justice is accorded its citizens and their rights given proper protection."

Mr. Lansing explained that he issued his statement because some newspapers in connection with the kidnapping of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, had made it appear that he had said "that Americans in Mexico had no greater rights to protection than Mexicans."

"To avoid being misunderstood as to this government's interpretation of the rule of international law on the subject of responsibility on the part of Mexico for the safety of Americans in

"While in general there is presumed to be no difference between the rights of aliens and the rights of natives to be treated fairly and justly under local laws and by the local authorities, nevertheless should the operation of the local laws or the acts of commission or omission by local authorities result in injustice to Americans or lack of adequate protection of their lives or property, it is the privilege as well as the right of this government by diplomatic intervention, to see to it that justice is accorded to its citizens and their rights given proper protection."

"The reason for this is that when a condition of political unrest and lawlessness exists, such as obtains in certain parts of Mexico, aliens being denied proper protection by the authorities must rely on their government operating through diplomatic channels to obtain justice and security. This is a general statement and the basis of the policy followed by this government, though it is necessarily subject to modification in particular cases."

If you are in poor health, if almost everything that you eat distresses you, frequent headaches, pains in the stomach, bad taste in the mouth, dark rings under the eyes, etc. The fact is, life is not worth living if you are a chronic sufferer from indigestion and biliousness.

When the stomach is out of order, the liver not working properly, your heart is obliged to do so much extra work, that it causes palpitation, faintness, and if not checked becomes dangerous.

To feel fresh and fit for your daily duties, you must keep your stomach well, your liver active, and the bowels regular; you can get into this healthy condition, by taking SEVEN BARKS; as a digestive tonic, and stomach remedy, it has no equal, and 50 years of continuous sale proves its wonderful merit.

Get at the root of your indigestion and constipation trouble by driving all poisons out of your system for good. No matter how chronic your case is, you can get quick relief by taking nature's remedy, SEVEN BARKS; one bottle costing five will prove its value. After you have proven its wonderful efficiency, you will never be without it. Ask your druggist for it.—Adv.

CLUB LAFAYETTE'S NEW HOME

The final papers transferring the old Bowers castle in Warrancourt street, now owned by Mrs. Florence M. Libbee, to Club Lafayette, will be signed tomorrow, and it is expected the club will move into its new quarters some time next week or the week after.

In the Mesa Verde National Park, Colorado, is a tower 40 feet high, the loftiest structure made by Indians north of Mexico.

If the average woman only knew it, it is not at all difficult to preserve the youthful contour and velvety smoothness of complexion. Every woman hates to see her face wrinkled or baggy, and practically every one has experimented with some sort of remedy in the effort either to remove such condition or ward it off. As a matter of fact, the most effective remedy in the world is one that any woman can easily make up herself at home, in a moment's time. Let her take one ounce of pure powdered sage, which she can purchase at any drug store, and dissolve it in a half pint of witch hazel. Apply this three or four times a day for a while. The results are surprising, to say the least. Even after the very first application marked improvement is apparent. The wrinkles are less in evidence and the face has a comfortable, snug feeling of firmness that is most delightful.—Adv.

FOR PROHIBITION OF TOBACCO

Anti-Saloon League Forces Join in War to Prohibit Tobacco

BY FREDERICK M. KERBY (N.E.A. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Is prohibition of tobacco to follow prohibition of alcohol? Have the forces which successfully engineered the prohibition amendment to the constitution started the drive that is to end in the suppression of tobacco in America?

An unbiased investigation into the influence and forces at work leads to the conclusion that—

There is a well defined campaign under way, backed in large part by the forces which backed prohibition of the liquor traffic, which has for its ultimate object the prohibition of the sale and use of tobacco in every form.

Besides the many subsidiary groups and organizations which, like the auxiliary branches of an army, contribute to the success of the actual combat groups at the front, there are four well defined forces at work in the campaign against My Lady Nicotine.

These Four Are Fighting Tobacco

1.—The Anti-Cigaret League, with headquarters in Chicago, of which Lucy Page Gaston is the president, and which plans to secure 10,000,000 members in the United States.

2.—The temperance and moral board of the Methodist Episcopal church, headed by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

3.—The Woman's Christian Temperance union.

4.—The "Committee of Fifty," headed by Dr. Alexander Lambert of New York, and including some of the most prominent physicians and scientists in the United States, which is making a study of the effects of nicotine on the human system.

There is no present intention on the part of the anti-tobacco forces to work for a constitutional amendment to prohibit tobacco. The work which is going on is very similar to the work which was undertaken by the prohibition forces against the use of liquor in the first stages of its campaign. It consists of education, agitation, publicity, directed against tobacco, and particularly, at the present time, against the cigarette. The first legislative attempts will center in an effort to secure anti-cigarette legislation in those states where the chances of success are best, and also to secure the enforcement of anti-cigarette legislation in those states which already have such laws, but where they are a "dead letter."

On Pacific Coast

The legislative attack will start in Oregon.

On September 1, there was filed with the secretary of state of Oregon, by D. E. Frost of Oregon City, an initiative petition covering the prohibition of "the sale, use or possession of cigarettes" in Oregon.

Attorney General Brown of Oregon has prepared the ballot title for this anti-cigarette bill, and if it receives a sufficient number of signatures (it will require 10,000 signatures) it will be voted on by the people of Oregon in the general election of November, 1920.

Predictions of its overwhelming defeat are not worrying the anti-cigarette forces. They regard it as merely an entering wedge.

Oregon has been selected because it has no interest in tobacco growing, and because it is regarded as one of the best fields for the start of the movement.

The attempt to secure a drastic anti-cigarette law for Oregon follows the revival of enforcement of the anti-cigarette law in North Dakota. For years the law there has been a dead letter, but last May officials began to put life into the law and dealers were advised that they would be given a certain length of time in which to dispose of stocks of cigarettes on hand, after which time the law would be strictly enforced. Many dealers, seeing the handwriting on the wall, ceased selling cigarettes altogether; others put up the price 5 cents a package to recompense them for the risk they are taking. The general practice is to evade the law by keeping the cigarettes out of sight, but selling them just the same.

Ether Devlin and Alice Troski, two Wilkesbarre, Pa., girls, have accepted

VON CAPELLE EXPLAINS SUBMARINE WAR

BERLIN, November 13 (By the Associated Press).—Vice Admiral Eduard von Capelle, former minister of the navy, was questioned Tuesday as to why more submarines were not built so that the submarine campaign could have been successful.

Hecklers at the national assembly sub-committee's investigation into the war having failed to get much information as to why the submarine campaign was not avoided, changed their tactics to questioning the former minister of the navy on submarine construction.

The admiral replied succinctly, in an endeavor to prove why submarine construction was retarded in 1918, and why it jumped enormously in 1917 and 1918.

Count von Bernstorff gauged the session correctly Tuesday morning when he asked the Associated Press correspondent: "Are you going to attend the performance this afternoon?"

A summary of his contribution to U-boat construction was read by von Capelle at the start of the session.

"Eight hundred and ten submarines were built before and during the war," said the former minister of the navy. Of these 45 were constructed before the war; 186 were built during the administration of Admiral von Tirpitz and 579 were built by me in the two and a half years I was in office.

"I took office in April, 1916, and in the nine months remaining in that year I ordered built 90 U-boats; in 1917 I ordered 269; and in the nine months I was in office in 1918, I ordered 220."

It was here his questioning began. "Why was there such a discrepancy between 1916 and the two following years?" demanded Herr Goethel.

Von Capelle replied sharply:

"There are a number of reasons why so small a number was ordered in 1916. First the reichstag took an overwhelming stand against the submarine and I could not start to build because I saw myself in opposition to the government. Second, I had been out of the naval service and was unaware of the technical improvements in U-boat building and had to give intimate study to the subject; and third, the Skagerrak battle caused serious damage to our boats. Their repair held up the construction of other boats."

Germany had decided to live up to international law and not sink merchantmen without warning, continued von Capelle, but he said he thought that in the fall of 1915 the admiral had issued a second order to attack British ships because England, "poisoned against us," had made the work of U-boats very difficult by mine which covered the entire North Sea. There was a demand for mine sweepers, torpedo boats and motor boats, which further reduced U-boat construction, he added.

Admiral von Capelle asserted he had been consulted three times with regard to submarine construction by D. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the first time when Herr Struve (a member of U-reichstag) had presented to the chancery a memorandum urging increase U-boat construction, which had been signed by George Goethel (another reichstag member); the second time when in 1917 the chancellor wrote saying U-boat construction must not be left out of consideration, showing, von Capelle said, that the chancellor counted on a long war, and third, when von Bethmann-Hollweg telegraphed that Deputy Fischbeck had expressed doubts whether Germany had enough U-boats, whereupon von Capelle said he visited the chancellor and assured him that everything was going well.

Herr Struve wrote to Gen. von Ludendorff, urging more U-boats, von Capelle added. Ludendorff replied in this matter that there was unanimity in this opinion in upper army circles, in the admiralty and among the general staff.

Her confidence in RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. is firmly established.

MRS. WILLIAM HEBERT

It is about eight years since I started taking RED PILLS and my confidence in same is firmly established, for it was due to their beneficial properties that I overcame my general weakness, pains, and poor blood, which the Doctors called Anæmia. I gradually grew less discouraged and was thus better able to attend to my various duties as mother of a large family. There is nothing in the world like RED PILLS for me, and I always have a stock of them on hand at my home for ready use.

RED PILLS are for women only. They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Franco American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

Why U-boats could not have been built in a series of one type at one time and another type at a different time.

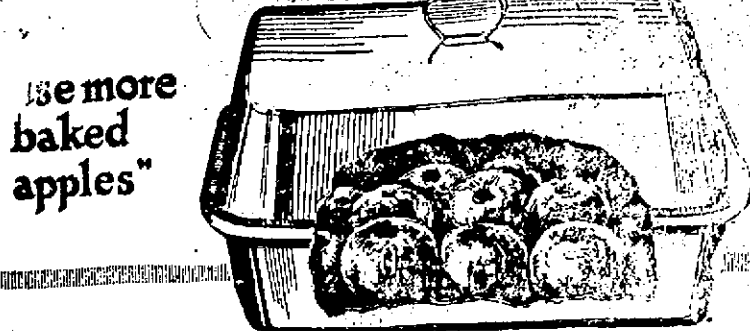

Von Capelle replied that towards the end of the war that was done but said the outset it was impossible because of pressure of repair work and lack of wharves and skilled labor. Herr Sinshelmer attempted to elicit an exact purpose of the submarine campaign against England—whether it was the intention to crush England or merely to compel her to agree to a peace.

Von Capelle replied: "We believed we could force England to a 'usable peace' within five months."

"Was the submarine war planned to make feeding of England impossible and therefore making impossible the reaching by England of her goal?" asked Herr David.

"There was no hope in the navy that food or ammunition could be kept from England," replied von Capelle sarcastically. "We should have been more suspicious of England."

WHY TAKE CASTOR OIL?

The same beneficial result is secured by taking Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. People get sick because they go away from Nature, and the only way to get well is to go back to Nature. Something grows out of the ground to cure almost every ill. Dr. Pierce, some fifty years ago, found that a combination of May-apple, leaves of aloë, and root of jalap, rolled into a tiny, sugar-coated pellet—called Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—was as effective as castor oil and more pleasant to take.

HEALTH TALK

The Kidneys and Uric Acid

All the blood in the body goes thru the kidneys within a few minutes. Therefore the kidneys are very important for health, because they filter out of the blood most of the waste (poisonous) substance and the blood then flows on toward the heart thru the kidney vein, and what the kidneys take out of the blood forms urine. So it is very important to have the water examined by a chemist at least once a year to test one's health.

I would suggest that everyone send a sample to Dr. Pierce's Clinic in Buffalo, N. Y., for a thorough chemical and microscopical test. This will be made free of charge and a report sent to you. The kidneys and bladder suffer from the wear and tear and we get chronic inflammations, sometimes indicated by backache, painful voiding of water, dull, heavy feelings. Perhaps the uric acid is stored up in the system in excessive amount, and, consequently, when the uric acid is deposited in muscles and joints one suffers from lumbago, rheumatic pains, gout, and this is the time to take "Auric."

SALE OF APPLE CIDER IS PERMISSIBLE

The manufacture and sale of pure apple cider is permissible whether it is fermented or not, providing nothing has been added to increase its alcoholic content. This announcement was made by Acting Collector of Internal Revenue Andrew J. Casey in response to many inquiries recently received by internal revenue officials about the use of cider for Thanksgiving.

"Under the prohibition act," said Mr. Casey, "no restriction or limitation is placed upon the manufacture, sale or use of cider. It is taxable upon the manufacture when sold in closed containers."

"Cider put upon the market and sold as wine is taxed as wine. It is not really wine and if it is not put up and sold as wine it is not subject to the wine tax, regardless of the amount of alcohol it contains or of its intoxicating qualities. The only tax that applies then is that imposed upon soft drinks when sold by the manufacturer, producer or importer in bottles or other closed containers. Cider is not a vinous liquor within the meaning of the act of November 21, 1918, and it is not necessary for internal revenue officials to report instances of its sale or manufacture."

"Cider, whether sweet or hard, may be sold at the present time without regard to alcoholic content, but after the 18th amendment to the constitution becomes effective January 16, 1920, cider can be manufactured and sold commercially only when the alcoholic content is under one-half of one percent."

"The addition of sugar or other fermentable substitutes for the purpose of increasing the alcoholic content is considered a violation of the law, but no restrictions or limitations are placed upon the manufacture and sale of pure cider by the war revenue act or the prohibition act."

FOR ENFORCEMENT OF WAR TIME DRY ACT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—John F. Kramer, an attorney of Mansfield, Ohio, has been appointed federal prohibition commissioner in direct charge of the enforcement of war-time constitutional prohibition.

Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, made public plans for enforcement of prohibition. Mr. Kramer will have as aides an executive field force of nine supervising federal prohibition agents and a prohibition director in each state. The supervising federal agents will have jurisdiction over nine territorial units into which the country has been divided.

Under the direction of the supervising agents will be a mobile force of federal agents which will be sent from one point to another as conditions warrant.

Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts are included in the northern district, the headquarters of which probably will be at Albany, N. Y., and Rhode Island and Connecticut in the New York district, with headquarters in New York city.

"The policy of the bureau of internal revenue will be to reinforce local efforts to the extent necessary to secure proper enforcement of the law," Mr. Roper said. "No state, county or municipal officer will be relieved of responsibility and every officer of the federal government of every state, county and city must be surcharged with the full responsibility of a prohibition enforcement officer."

"While the duty of ascertaining conditions in the several states will rest primarily upon the shoulders of the federal prohibition directors, the supervising agents, upon their initiative, will make independent investigations in ascertaining violations of the prohibition laws, co-operating with the directors and local authorities. Directors will give particular attention to the manufacture and sale of denatured

All the colors of the rainbow are poured over woman this Fall

FASHION commands that woman go brilliantly—from underslip to veil and gloves—or she'll not go fashionably at all

NEVER has the smart woman been so like a brilliant bird as she is this Fall.

The new blouses, lingerie frocks, street dresses, evening gowns are a wizardry of coloring.

Underwear, negligees, stockings—hats, wraps, ribbons, gloves—everything a woman wears disdains to be less than the rainbow!

And this new flaming into color has come so quickly, has grown so enormously, that the makers of clothes can't keep up with it. They can't get the new colors into the shops till months and months after you have first read of them in the smart magazines.

A wonderful new way has been found for women to get the smartest of new colors at once. They can stop hunting vainly through the shops. They can stop being sad over the sober clothes they're still having to wear.

For all they have to do is to wash their blouses, frocks and veils into any merry hue they have set their hearts upon!

Just wash the season's gaiety into everything you have

YOU just wash your things with Twink—the wonderful new colored flakes. And they're beautiful! They're all the new colors! For Twink is made just to give your blouse or camisole any gay color you wish—at the same time it launders as perfectly as Lux.

Really smart colors—that always turn out right

Twink shades were chosen with the help of the authorities in this country on the colors of women's clothes. The blues, the pinks and grays, the very yellow, lavender, and so on, that are to be most in favor.

And every time you get these true smart shades—and so fast you can wash the garment several times with Lux before its next Twinking.

You throw the Twink flakes into very hot or boiling water. You work your blouse around in these hot suds for a few minutes, then squeeze the suds through gently, as you've always done with Lux. You rinse it well in cold water. Then a quick pressing—and all in a twinkling you've an adorable smart new waist.

Get two or three different colors of Twink today, and follow the surprisingly easy directions that come with the package.

All the department stores, 5 and 10 cent stores and your druggist, have Twink. —Lever Bros. Co. Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux).

Mr. Roper said that only high class men would be employed as inspectors. The commissioner's program leaves no doubt that where state officials or city or county officials do not enforce the law vigorously the federal government's representatives will proceed in their own way to drive out illicit liquor sellers.

Mr. Roper in his statement asked for the co-operation of all religious, social, fraternal, labor and civic organizations in preventing the illegal sale of intoxicants.

LOWELL GUILD PLANS FOR HEALTH STATION

The monthly meeting of the council of the Lowell Guild was held Monday morning with a large attendance. The president, Mrs. Burke, presiding. Plans were discussed relative to the inauguration of the health station to be established by the Red Cross under the supervision of the guild. As a first step a conference is to be arranged to which all interested agencies are to be invited and at which there will be an address by Miss Elizabeth Ross of the nursing department of the Red Cross. The date for this conference will be announced later.

The Lowell Visiting Nurses' Association is a veritable field hospital. It furnishes skilled nursing care to the sick in their homes. During October the nurses employed gave nursing care to 155 patients in the home, making 801 nursing visits.

In addition to giving nursing care the nurses teach the family how to care for the patient, the rules of sanitary living and the means of preventing contagion.

WILL HOLD SMOKE TALK

Members of the Holy Name society of St. Peter's church will hold a smoke talk this evening in the parish school hall in Gorham street. Rev. Fr. Leyden of Roxbury, who served overseas in the world war as a regular army chaplain, will be the speaker and owing to his extensive experience with the A.E.F., it is expected that his address will be most interesting. The committee in charge of the smoker has also arranged an excellent musical program.

In 1850 there were 400,000 power spindles in Ireland, as compared with something under 1,000,000 today.

MENACE OF RADICALISM

Recent events have placed the ordinary labor union under suspicion of being the recruiting ground for socialists, syndicalists and anarchists. In past years, the labor union did splendid work in this country by securing redress of many grievances endured by the laboring people, such as long hours and unsanitary conditions.

It is well remembered when mill operatives had to work more than ten hours a day and when the working day in all the leading industries of the country was from ten to eleven hours. Even at that time the rate of wages was miserably low. Protests were made in vain until the labor unions brought relief by securing the enactment of remedial legislation.

As the result of the efforts of the unions, the 8-hour day now prevails very largely throughout the country and the rate of payment for overtime is at least 50 per cent. higher than the rate paid for regular working hours.

We thus gladly give the labor union full credit for what it has done, but for some time past, the union has been infested with socialistic agitators spreading their doctrines against capital and instilling into the minds of the members a bitter prejudice against their employers by representing the latter as living upon wealth dishonestly extorted from the working people.

The socialists were regarded as harmless until the revolutionary phases of the cult began to appear in the ranks of the I. W. W. whose principal weapon is the labor strike. Recently, and particularly since the end of the world war, this element has evidently been assiduously working through the labor unions, promoting strikes and demands for higher wages.

The revolutionary character of the I. W. W. was soon discovered in such labor conflicts as the strike in Lawrence, which brought professional agitators to stir the people to the point of rebellion. That they did not succeed was not their fault, but because they were met with the machinery of the law to suppress violent outbreaks and protect the public in person and property. Thus discredited, the I. W. W. ceased to conduct meetings openly on its own account and instead its members entered the ranks of organized labor, there to disseminate their dangerous doctrines in secret, or at least without interference from the officers of the law. It was supposed that the unions held no such dangerous element and there was no suspicion that any of the members were trying to use the organization for unpatriotic purposes until recent developments offered unmistakable evidence to the contrary.

The fact that several hundred strikes have been in progress in this country for some months past without the sanction of the American Federation of Labor, to which the unions belong, proves that the local unions are under the control of radical elements which pursue the I. W. W. policy for the purpose of promoting a social revolution and if possible the overthrow of representative government. Part of their scheme is to keep on making new demands for higher wages and improved working conditions. When a point is reached at which their demands are so unjust that they cannot be met, then the I. W. W. plan is to seize the factories and overthrow at one fell swoop capital and the wage system alike.

That this movement has been really carried on through the labor unions is well known to the department of justice and in a measure it has been shown in the insubordination of local unions to national control.

Thus the labor union that served such an admirable purpose in years gone by is now to a very great extent being made the cloak for socialistic plotting and strikes whose chief aim is to make trouble for the government with a view toward its final overthrow.

Nothing short of real danger and Bolshevik tendencies could have aroused the department of justice to its recent activities in running down the dangerous characters of the country. When such a man as Z. W. Foster heads the steel strike and other men of similar tendencies become active in the miners' strike, there is certainly good reason to assume that the radical than has yet been proposed. Ex-ical elements are working from the inside of the labor unions to affect their malign purposes in precipitating a social revolution in this country. Some of the speeches made at labor conventions have betrayed this spirit in claiming that capital should be overthrown, and that labor should get the full value of its product, regardless of the expenditures necessary for the manufacturing plant and the machinery by which the product has been made possible.

We regret this abuse of labor unions and the diversion from their original purpose, although we still believe that 90 per cent of organized labor is strictly patriotic and strictly American. But skilled agitators, continuously working among unsuspecting members, can readily succeed in leading many of them astray.

It is now the duty of organized labor to drive the radicals from its ranks for the reason that every one allowed to remain is a detriment and a menace to unionism in general.

Against these radical elements it is the duty of every honest American, every church, every newspaper, every magazine, every political leader and every legislator to stand firmly in order that our constitution may be defended and vindicated and that these dangerous agitators may be driven from our shores, back to the countries whence they came, there to practice whatever doctrines they please so far as we are concerned. This responsibility comes down to every individual citizen who prides himself upon being an American, who appreciates the priceless boon of liberty enjoyed under the American flag and who believes as every American should believe, that in this republic we enjoy the best type of human freedom ever vouchsafed to man and that as true Americans, we must ever stand ready to defend it, if necessary, with our lives.

THE I. W. W. CHALLENGE

If the government had not already started upon a vigorous campaign to round up the Reds and other disloyal elements now actively engaged in plotting treason, the occurrence at Centralia, Wash., when a parade of service men was fired upon by I. W. W. snipers with fatal results, would assuredly move it to action.

Fortunately, the government is fully alive to the situation and is taking active measures to banish from the country every radical agitator found to be engaged in seditious or treasonable movements. The I. W. W. which for years pursued its treasonable work under the mantle of organized labor, appears in its true colors in firing upon a parade of service men celebrating the victory over Germany and the cessation of hostilities in the world war.

That unpunished outrage by a body whose aim is to overthrow the government of this republic will arouse the patriotic citizens throughout the land, and will justify the government in adopting the most rigorous course for the suppression of this organization and the punishment or deportation of such of its members as can be located and convicted.

Especially will the service men who have been thus attacked, be stirred by this wanton challenge to their honor and patriotism. That deed will eventually be atoned for in the blood of these revolutionists; but legal processes alone will be invoked to stamp out the enemies of our constitution and our flag.

The American Legion, one million members strong, will take due notice of this attempt to precipitate a rebellion, and they can be relied upon in all emergencies to defend the nation's honor against the machinations of the socialists, syndicalists, the I. W. W.'s, the Russian Bolsheviks and the avowed anarchists. Strange as it may appear, these various enemies of organized society have established headquarters in our large cities and are spreading their literature throughout the length and breadth of the land. It will require a considerable time to bring them all under the restraint of law, but that must be done even if it is necessary to provide a prison colony for themselves.

The department of justice is doing splendid work in running down these enemies of our government. It may be necessary in the near future to adopt more summary punishment good reason to assume that the radical than has yet been proposed. Exceptions should follow conviction where the culprits are to the manor born, and as for the foreigners, they should consider themselves lucky to escape under a sentence of deportation.

There should be a provision of law providing extreme penalties for those deported if they again make their way back to this nation. It is easy for such characters to enter across the Mexican or Canadian borders if the bars are raised at the ports.

The department of justice is taking precautions against the escape of the more dangerous leaders arrested by asking congress for a law authorizing the courts to hold such prisoners without granting them liberty under bonds of any amount. With some of the revolutionary plotters, the ordinary bonds required by law are not sufficient to hold them, so that the department of justice is taking this step to overcome the effect of funds supposed to come from Trotsky, Lenin and other sources.

This is a time when those who are loyal to the flag will have to exercise vigilance in guarding against any propaganda of an unpatriotic or un-American character and it was never so ubiquitous as at the present hour. Germany taught the world the efficacy of propaganda in misleading the unwary, and her methods are now being used against this republic by fully half a dozen revolutionary organizations made up of men who followed their anarchistic conspiracies in Europe before coming here. Added to this is the propaganda of a nation supposedly friendly for the purpose of boosting her own prestige at the expense of real Americanism. This so-called appeal to our friendship, deceitful as it is, must be classed with the other forms of propaganda that menace our government. We are not ready to change our government nor to blend our flag with that of any other nation merely to extol her greatness at the expense of our own.

STREET CARS AND JITNEYS

The action of the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. in curtailing the service in cities that have been favorable to the jitney is liable to precipitate a lively controversy between the railway interests and the people who have been engaged in the jitney business.

The jitney has its uses in certain emergencies as we already know from experience here in Lowell; but for the purpose of general passenger traffic where there is a car line, it is not wise policy to have both run in competition. In the first place jitneys are not so reliable; and in case of accident, the owners are not so responsible as the railway company.

It appears that the trustees of the road are penalizing cities that have offered facilities for the business of the jitneys. There is some justification for this course inasmuch as the jitneys usually run on the most popular lines of travel and in emergencies, such as circus days and on days of public demonstration, they reap a rich harvest that otherwise would go into the coffers of the railroad.

The solution of this controversy may be a revision of the jitney business in the cities affected, so that the jitneys will not operate in competition with the railway. It should be satisfactory to jitney owners to have permission to run on routes that have no other mode of conveyance and that will not affect the patronage of the car lines.

Those four ex-service men killed at Centralia will not soon be forgotten. Their deaths will not be fully atoned until every I. W. W. in this land is either driven out or shot. They have no right to exist in this country as their sole aim is treason—the overthrow of our government.

It is not yet too late to join the Red Cross organization. Let not the opportunity pass to show appreciation for what this relief agency has done in the war. Do not fail to support it in its splendid work in time of peace.

Fast driving is far too common on the public streets. It results in death to children and other less serious accidents. Better stop it.

It is gratifying to know that the shoe strike has been declared off. It has been a serious loss to all concerned.

Hot Time in Blountville

They had a good, old-fashioned revival service in Blountville, Ind., recently, and nearly everybody in the town was converted.

But that wasn't what caused so much trouble.

When some of the old sinners became salutes they confessed their misdeeds.

Blountville never knew how wicked it had been until those men spoke up in meeting.

And the audience got an earful! One sinner said he had poisoned a mule.

Another had burned his house to collect insurance.

Another had stolen a hog.

And they learned who it was that took $4.33 worth of stamps from the postoffice in 1882.

The meeting broke up in a riot when one man confessed he had kissed another's wife four years ago at a picnic, and her husband started after him.

Anti-Pet Campaign

Since all these high class health experts and doctors started their anti-pet campaigns the work of sniffing out the nine lives of the family kitten has received a new impetus. Cats, healthiers insist, carry disease germs. They are nuisances, the cats, not the health officials. So, by the way, are pet dogs, if you believe the doctors. Don't under any circumstances park a pet cat or dog in the home. If you must have a pet (ask any doctor) keep it out in the garage and never touch it, thereby letting the pet keep its own germs to itself.

That's all very well for health officers to say.

(but—)

J. I. Minsoner, Galena, Kan., has a family pet cat.

It's an educated cat.

"That cat," says Minsoner, "has more sense than two dogs."

The cat doesn't confine its activities to hunting mice. Its best day's record in the hunting line is six squirrels and three rabbits.

In the fishing season the cat fishes. It dives into the water, grabs a nice fish, and comes to shore. Repeats the process until its master picks up the string and starts home.

In the fall and winter this remarkable cat leaves home early, trails a rabbit or two, maybe a squirrel, too, and is home with the family's great big dinner.

Anthony Bridwell of Childress, Tex., has a cat that'll wake up the family every morning at six o'clock, thus making it unnecessary for Mr. Bridwell to think to wind up the alarm clock the evening before.

On the Screen

(Copyright, 1919, N.E.A.) Real life is a bar and false in its bunch.

Its facts are so terribly twisted, For heroes are frequently weak in the bunch.

And honor is sometimes soft-kissed, Why is it real life is so constantly tricked?

And why is it narrow and mean? And why is life's hero so frequently licked.

When he never is licked—on the screen?

For oh, in the movies, the hero hits hard.

Although he be dapper, or scrawny, And the villain emerges all battered and scorned.

No matter how burly and brawny, And it makes one so sure of the triumph of right.

And the hero is always serene, For he knows any time that he enters a fight.

He can never be whipped—on the screen.

Sometimes, it is true, he is badly beaten.

And is felled by a dozen or more, But we find that his victory's only delayed.

And he very soon evens the score, And he dusts off his gloves with a nonchalant air.

As the villain is hummed on the beam For he knows the director will at last take care.

That he never is licked—on the screen.

His trainer's a man whom you ought to cage.

For just a few lessons would fit you To challenge Jack Dempsey and so on.

Where never a mortal could hit you Of course you must take most particular care.

To never be cast in a scene Opposed to the hero, for he, you're aware.

He can never be licked—on the screen.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 10c and 25c.

SAY $4,500,000 WASTED AT CAMP GRANT

ROCKFORD, Ill., Nov. 13.—Evidence purporting to show that more than $4,500,000 was expended needlessly in building Camp Grant, and disclosures of alleged graft among workmen at the cantonment enlightened yesterday's session of the congressional sub-committee investigating the cost of the camp.

Three men testified that they and other workmen were mulcted by dishonest foremen and straw bosses. One man testified that the boss of a certain gang collected $2 from each of his men for permitting them to earn overtime wages on Sunday.

Two teamsters alleged that a Rockford expressman who claimed to have the exclusive contract for supplying teams to the camp contractors collected $2.20 a day for each of the 200 teams employed at Camp Grant for a period of nearly four weeks.

J. P. O'Connor, a Chicago contractor, who was retained by the sub-committee to make a survey of Camp Grant, testified that the cantonment could have been built for $5,319,544, as compared with the actual cost, which, as far as it has been tabulated, was $12,551,269.72, and to which, according to government experts, there is yet nearly $1,000,000 to be added.

OVERSEAS VETERANS FIND EMPLOYMENT

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Nov. 13.—That a very large percentage of the overseas veterans have either resumed their former employment or have found other employment is the conclusion of the state bureau of statistics, after a careful survey of the industrial situation in this state.

The department takes occasion to express the opinion that industrial unrest has been more prevalent, during the past few months, and more deep-seated, than for many years.

This is shown not only by the number of strikes, but also by their magnitude. During the second quarter of the year, there were 161 strikes in Massachusetts, as compared with 65 during the preceding quarter, and with 142 for the same quarter last year. It is held, however, that this showing need not necessarily occasion alarm.

"For it is inevitable that during the period of re-adjustment and reconstruction through which industry is now passing numerous and serious industrial controversies, necessitating the consideration even of fundamental economic problems, should arise. It is imperative, however, particularly at this time when industrial conditions are greatly unsettled, that both parties to labor controversies should exercise a dispassionate and fair-minded spirit in their negotiations. Reactionary policies on the part of employers and unreasonable demands by employees serve merely to emphasize class antagonism."

Returns made to the Bureau by 1,129 labor organizations in this state, having an aggregate membership of 242,737 men and women, the number of members unemployed at the close of the quarter was 12,537, or 5.1 per cent of the total membership. This percentage compared very favorably with corresponding averages for the same quarter in other years, and is in marked contrast with the percentage, 13.4, at the close of the previous quarter. The improvement was not confined to any single industry, but was general in character, and indicates that the readjustment to peace conditions is being rapidly accomplished.

Of the 5.1 per cent out of work at the end of the quarter, the percentage unemployed on account of work was 2.7 per cent, while only 1.1 per cent were idle because of strikes, and disability accounted for the same number.

Holyoke reported the largest percentage unemployed, 18.3 per cent of its organized workers having been out of work at the end of the quarter. Gloucester followed with 13.5 per cent, Worcester with 9.7 per cent, and Fitchburg with 8 per cent. These were the only cities which exceeded the average for the state. Holyoke's large percentage was due to the unemployment of paper makers, bricklayers, carpenters and loomfixers; Gloucester's, granite cutters; Worcester's, molders and bottlers; and Fitchburg's, molders, machinists and plumbers.

American Legion Means Helpfulness and Service to Nation

BY ERIC FISHER WOOD,
 Secretary of the American Legion
 "We have stood together; let's stick together."
 No other phrase perhaps could better
 express the spirit behind the American Legion. The legion is the civilian organization of the five million men

 and women who represented democracy
 militant in the uniform of the United States in the world war.

OLD MEN AND OLD WOMEN ARE MAKING GOOD

Hundreds of men and women well
 along in years have taken a most remarkable new lease on life; are
 up and doing more than their share
 of work and enjoying it, not asking
 favors of anyone.

There is no secret about this.
 Every man and woman past the
 prime of life can come back strong,
 look young, and feel young, in a short time, if they will just follow
 the laws of nature.

Old people THINK they are worn
 out because of age, and they feel that way. This is all wrong. One
 of our leading doctors says that looking and feeling old is due to lack of iron and phosphates in the blood and nerves. When people are young, they have a good supply. As they grow older and draw on this reserve, they commence to run down
 unless they are wise enough to recharge their blood and nerves with Phosphated Iron.

Continuing, the doctor said, "Every man and woman along in years can
 be made strong, keen, healthy and
 alert, enjoying life's pleasures again
 if they will simply renew their blood
 with Iron and Phosphates.

Phosphated Iron makes new, red
 blood, strengthens the nerves, rebuilds energy, renews endurance and
 often increases the strength of weak
 or old people one hundred per cent
 in 2 weeks' time. Thousands of rundown old people who were ailing all
 the while have surprised their friends with a most astonishing return of health, strength and vitality
 simply by taking Phosphated Iron.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent. or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine.
 They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupify, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it.
 Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good".

Masquerading under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late?

THE MERRIMACK RIVER DEVELOPMENT PLAN

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Nov. 13.—
 With the approach of the time when heads of the 20 departments consolidating all the state boards are to be chosen persons interested in the development of the Merrimack river are keeping a close watch on the appointment to the chairmanship of the new public works department.
 Upon the decision of that department
 will depend whether the efforts to

 gable from the sea to Lowell will finally be crowned with success, as it is in this department that the fate of the waterway will virtually be decided.

The public works department, under
 the consolidation arrangement, will consist of the present commission on waterways and public lands and the
 highway commission. John N. Cole of Andover is chairman of the former, and Col. William D. Schier of Beverly heads
 the latter. Both, it is understood, are candidates for the leadership of the
 new department, as is also Everett E.
 Stone, a noted engineer, who is now a member of the public service commission.

Cake Soap—the rubbing wears the life out of your clothes
 "Washing Powder"—good enough for scrubbing but ruinous for clothes

WITH cake soap you rub till you wear the life out of your garments. If you add washing powders full of harsh chemicals, they "eat"
 the clothes, and ruin your hands.

But you have to get the clothes white.

And they go to pieces! Worn out by friction.
 Destroyed by strong alkalis.

You need not go on ruining your clothes like this.

Soak them in a tubful of soapy, bubbly Rinso and. Rinso is not a cake soap! Not a "washing powder!" But a wonderful new form of soap—in fine granules.

You just soak the clothes clean instead of the old rubbing and boiling.

Soak them overnight or for three hours in the morning.

Then rinse them! And hang them out! Snowy white without boiling or any real rubbing. The pure Rinso suds have done all the work.

Don't wash the old way another week. One package of Rinso will show you how to save hours of exhausting work, how to save yourself and save your clothes. Get Rinso from your grocer and follow the easy directions on the package. Lever Bros. Co.,

FOR POULTRY FANCIERS CREOLIN-PEARSON DISINFECTANT

A safe and effective disinfectant to combat disease germs and lice, and an excellent antiseptic for sores, scaly leg, roup, chicken pox, scurfs, etc.
 CREOLIN-PEARSON has been termed "undoubtedly the best all-round disinfectant for poultry-men."

CREOLIN-PEARSON

CREOLIN-PEARSON has a wide range of usefulness in your home, on the farm, in stable and factory. It is both antiseptic and disinfectant.

CREOLIN-PEARSON is much more powerful than carbolic acid, having a Coefficient of 9 to 10, which is clearly marked on the label for your protection.

CREOLIN-PEARSON is safe to handle as directed; it is neither caustic nor corrosive.

CREOLIN-PEARSON always makes a milky solution with water. This and its odor are characteristic.

Attempt To Kill Clemenceau's Secreta

BORDEAUX, Nov. 13.—An attempt was made early today to assassinate Georges Mandel, premier Clemenceau's chief confidential secretary, who is a candidate on the nationalist ticket for the department of Gironde.

At 2 o'clock this morning, as M. Mandel was entering his automobile at the conclusion of a public meeting, his car was surrounded by a mob of 100 persons. He and his friends were assaulted with canes and sticks. A revolver shot was fired at M. Mandel, shattering the door of the automobile. Mandel escaped unhurt. His chauffeur started the car at full speed to escape the crowd.
